GOLD EXPORT BY U.S.

G$8½ MILLION SHIPPED TO ITALY

MAY BE PRECEDENT OF FURTHER EXPORTS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

NEW YORK, March 19.

EIGHT and a half million dollars worth of gold was to-day exported to Italy under Special Treasury License. According to the financial editor of the New York, American, the gold was withdrawn from stock earmarked on account of the Bank of Italy.

This is the first transaction of its kind since Mr. Roosevelt's embargo on gold exports.

The shipment may set a precedent for the four hundred million dollars gold earmarked for foreign balances still in the Federal Reserve Bank's vaults.

NEW YORK, March 19.

The Federal Reserve Bank announce the shipment of 8½ million dollars of gold to Italy.

WASHINGTON, March 19.

Mr. Roosevelt has authorised the State Authorities to appoint Conservators of the State Banks to be members of the Federal Reserve Banks, all of which cannot re-open until licensed by the Treasury.

THE MOSCOW ARRESTS

GRAVE VIEW TAKEN BY BRITISH GOVERNMENT

"ENTIRELY FOOLISH ACT ON PART OF RUSSIA"

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, March 18.

THE grave view which the British Government takes of the arrest by the Soviet authorities of the employees of the Metropolitan Vickers Company, was clearly indicated in a speech, last night, by the Dominion Secretary Mr. J. H. Thomas.

He said "I know of nothing that has stirred British public opinion more than the arrest of a number of our fellow citizens in Russia. Public opinion in this country is satisfied that the men who have been arrested are respectable and harmless British Subjects, engaged in their normal commercial vocations.

"It seems absurd to suggest that such men should be themselves to any measures calculated to destroy their own livelihood. It is not understood here what motive underlies these arbitary proceedings, but the whole country will agree that British subjects must not be made the subject of any shortcomings in official projects."

What is the Object?

"I do not know what is the object of this apparently foolish act on the part of Russia. I do not know that in past times Governments, in order to divert attention from Home affairs, got embroiled in foreign difficulties and if that is the real object of Russia in this matter, I have no hesitation in saying that no one in this country will be deceived.

"Commercial relations must always be to the profit for both parties, and if these are to be facilitated these subjects must not be exposed to unwarrantable hindrance and hardships in pursuit of them. We have already abundant evidence of our anxiety not to interfere with Russia however much we may disagree with her political aims, but clearly it would be a profound mistake to assume that that relationship of commercial and diplomatic character, which is essential between two nations, could be continued if our people were subjected to petty tyranny and punishment and indeed agonizing mental pain that these men are now undergoing."

INTERNATIONAL RUGBY

SCOTLAND BEAT ENGLAND

HARD FOUGHT GAME AT MURRAYFIELD

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

EDINBURGH, March 18.

AT Murrayfield, before 70,000 spectators, Scotland beat England by 3 points to nil.

Scotland's try was scored by Fyfe just before the interval.

England was perhaps unlucky as her forwards held their own, but the backs, her strongest department, were weakened through injuries to Burland and Gerrard.

The Scottish defence was very sound, particularly after the interval when England continually attacked, however, the "veteran" Scotsman, Ian Smith, was always a source of danger.

Longland replaced Evans in the English side, while the Scottish team was unchanged.

OLD FAVOURITES WIN AT HAPPY VALLY

ROYAL FLUSH AND WONDERFUL STAG BACK TO WINNING FORM ON SATURDAY

ABSENCE OF BIG DIVIDEND FEATURE OF SECOND EXTRA RACE MEETING

(BY "MORNING DEW")

Two old favourites in Royal Flush and Wonderful Stag caught the judge's eye on Saturday at the Second Extra Meeting of the Hong Kong Jockey Club. The former won the "D" Class race over six furlongs while the latter won the "C" Class race over a mile and a quarter and in so doing accounted for several well-fancied candidates.

There was a distinct absence of big dividends as the public has apparently learned by now that anything with four legs has a chance to win a race and was therefore backing evenly. Even the surprise win of Lucy Glitters over City of Melbourne and Evening Star did not result in a bigger dividend than $37, which incidentally was the highest of the day.

Diana Bay won her race fairly easily, but Woodland Stag went under to Night Star for the second time this season.

CHAMPAGNE BAY BEATEN IN FIRST RACE

All the "experts" predicted a win for Champagne Bay in the opening race of the day and he was a roaring favourite in the pari-mutuel, but the pony could do no better than get second place. Daylight Eve running with a concession of 13 pounds from the favourite, won the event by two lengths and Mrs. Pearce's Weybridge secured place just nosing out the lightly weighted Brechin who was a good fourth.

Flying Boy's favourite position in the betting in the second race was certainly not due to past performances but to the fact, probably, that he was the mount of the champion jockey. The pony was never in the picture and when next he goes to the post will probably be entirely neglected, which is as it should be, as the pony is not worth backing at all unless at very long odds.

Mr. Pan on Hey Tor had an "armchair ride" here and won by two lengths from Jack O'Lantern with Charming Face third. The finishing order in this race was exactly as predicted in Saturday's Daily Press.

Diana Bay

Diana Bay may be said to have a "walk over" in the "A" Class race over a mile and a quarter as he led from start to finish and, coming home in a canter, won by four lengths.

Bag and Baggage, ridden by Mr. Heard was a good second and Hetman, making full use of his lighter weight took third place. Sadko could not get up in the earlier stage of the race and when Needa woke him in the head before the home straight he was too far behind to be able to do much damage. He finished fourth.

Night Star

That Night Star is an out-and-out champion is confirmed by the fact that in the "A" Class of the Rosehill Handicap, he won by a length from Woodland Stag in 2.02, which is only 2/5 of a second behind Season Ticket's record. Woodland Stag could not get near the leader in the earlier part of the race when Cossack's Choice set a very hot pace. Half way up the incline, Portia passed everyone except Night Star and turning into the home straight he was within a length of the leader, but that was as near as he got. Woodland Stag came along with a great big rush in the last quarter, but never passed Night Star, who won by a length.

Royal Flush

Orlando, Amoy, Royal Flush and King Salmon was the order in which the public chose their favourites in the fifth race, and, with the exception of Orlando, the favourites came in, Royal Flush beating King Salmon by a short head with Amoy another short head behind. Royal Flush paid his supporters $26.40 for a win which is not a very good return in view of this pony's repeated failures in the past.

Colonial Stakes—1 Mile

Mayflower had nothing to beat in this race and all W. H. Choy had to do was to keep on the saddle and send the pony in front before Black Rock was reached. Per Se drew up with the leader entering the straight, but that was all. He fell back again before the distance post was reached and by the time the winning post was reached had to be satisfied with only third place as Solar Star passed him in the last few strides.

There was an accident in the start of this race and a false start resulted in Yue Shun Wa (on The Cavalier) and H. M. Remedios (on Per Se) being thrown. Remedios hung on to the ropes of the gates, and dragged them along and ultimately "crashed" the gate. The ropes also became entangled with the hind legs of The Cavalier. Both ponies ran once round the course before being caught, and Per Se ultimately finished third.

Wonderful Stag

This old stalwart occasionally pops a surprise, but on Saturday his surprise win did not result in any big dividend, backers only getting 4-1 on him in a field of 17! The biggest disappointment in this race was Bistre who, carrying the bulk of the betting, failed to get a place. Wonderful Stag put in a great burst of speed in the run home to win from Dee and Alexandra Hall.

Lucy Glitters

In the "B" Class Australian event, Mr. Frost on City of Melbourne tried to run away with the event and when the gate went up he sent his mount well in front, doing the first half mile in 54.2 seconds. Evening Star, the favourite, could not get up with him at all and after the first three furlongs, Mr. Frost's pony was a good fifteen lengths ahead of the field, where Lucy Glitters and Evening Star were leading. Evening Star picked up on Lucy Glitters and together the two closed the gap between them and the leader before entering the straight. Here Lucy Glitters showed a burst of pace that earned him the race, but Evening Star found the effort to reduce the gap had been too much for him and had to be satisfied with third place.

The Last Race

Although there were thirteen starters in the last race of the day, there were only two ponies which found any support at all and they finished first and second respectively. King's Parade won from Christmas Belle in the excellent time of 2.06.4. Fi Fa was third.

CONSUMPTION HAS BEEN CURED.

A Remedy for Consumption Has Been Found.

DERK P. TONKERMAN, DISCOVERER OF THE NEW REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Marvellous as it may seem after centuries of failure, a remedy has been discovered that has cured the deadly Consumption even in the advanced stages of the disease. No one will longer doubt that Consumption can be cured after reading the proof of hundreds of cases cured by this wonderful discovery—some after change of climate and all other remedies tried had failed, and the cases had been pronounced hopeless of cure. This new remedy has also proved itself effective and speedy in curing Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and other serious throat and lung troubles. In order that all in need of this wonderful product of Science may learn of its efficacy for themselves, a Company has been formed to distribute it to the World, and full particulars can be obtained by writing the Derk P. Yonkerman Co., Ltd. (Dept. C. 381), 118/120, Fleet St., London, E.C.4, and mentioning this paper.

ABSOLUTELY FREE.

Do not wait if you have any of the symptoms of Consumption, if you have Chronic Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma or any Throat or Lung Trouble, write to-day and benefit yourself before it is too late.

OUR LONDON AIR-MAIL LETTER

London's Air Squadron: The Prince Travels by Tube: D. R. Jardine's Apprenticeship: Mr. Herbert Morrison's Traffic Bill: Portrait of Somerset Maugham: The Duchess goes Shopping

London, Feb. 28.

Auxiliary Squadron's Reward.

The City of London Auxiliary Air Squadron has won a tangible mark of appreciation from the Air Ministry, which has sanctioned the substitution of the squadron's present 'planes by nine new Hawker Harts. The acquition of the new machines, three of which have already been delivered at Hendon, has caused a wave of renewed enthusiasm among the stockbrokers, and City business men who make up the auxiliary company, for it is appreciated that Hawker Harts are the fastest day bombers in use, being capable of 250 miles an hour. I cannot, of course, imagines other equally efficient squadrons, such as Glasgow's, being content now with their comparatively aged models while London, metaphorically speaking, speeds past in her new 'planes.

Prince's Tube Trip.

It is, particularly appropriate that the Prince of Wales has fixed upon one day this week for a trip on one of the London tubes in order to see for himself how Londoners normally travel "underground." His Royal Highness has arranged to inspect the new extension of the Piccadilly line beyond Finsbury Park, and his visit will coincide with the great annual enumeration of passengers undertaken with the object of discovering how the various services can be adjusted to suit the convenience and preferences of between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 weekly travellers. The Prince will doubtless escape the attention of the army of ticket inspectors posted at all junction stations to prepare the way by distinguishing punch marks for the subsequent analysis showing precisely how the traffic flows.

Umbrellas for Hire.

Kindly consideration is now being shown by a London railway company for those travellers who, having left their umbrellas behind in the morning, arrive at their home station in the evening to find weeping skies awaiting them. A large number of umbrellas have been made available for hire, and the season ticket holder, on production of his ticket and twopence in cash, can borrow one until the following day. Passengers with ordinary tickets are asked to leave a deposit of half a crown, which is returned, less the hiring charge, when the umbrella is brought back to the station.

Jardine's Apprenticeship.

Mr. D. R. Jardine's skill as captain, one of the main factors in our retrieving the Ashes, is the reward of a long period of devotion.

Fifteen years ago, he and his cousin W. M. Leggatt then the Winchester fast bowler, now captain of the Army cricket eleven, were the only players worthy of the name on the school's side.

At that time Jardine had just begun to concentrate on batting. His bowling, for which at his private school he had been noted, had begun to deteriorate. But this did not deter him from experiments in leg theory.

Our Ashes.

In a City street this morning I found a knot of amused people round a newspaper seller who was celebrating the recovery of the Ashes in his own way and at the same time giving himself some useful publicity.

Newspaper placards concealed a large square box on which an old dustbin was standing. "Our Ashes" it was inscribed; and surmounting it were crossed Union Jacks.

The paper seller wore a battered top hat, but from the brisk custom which his small stunt brought him it looked as though he will be able to buy a new one to-night.

Business by Air.

There should be no further complaints that British traders are not enterprising enough to go out themselves and find business for their firms. I spoke to-day to a London business man who has just returned from an Empire tour by air, which he undertook in order to get into personal touch with as many clients as possible, and he assured me that he had secured more orders by this direct personal method than he would have obtained by any other mean. He was away from this country for only 60 days, but in that comparatively brief time he paid calls at Palestine, Iraq, Egypt, Sudan, Uganda, Kenya, Tanganyika, Northern and Southern Rhodesia, and South Africa, and, in all, travelled more than 20,000 miles. From his conversations with fellow-travellers he judged that he was by no means the only British trader who was "going out" to get business.

Seeing "Leg-Theory."

A bigger compliment has probably never been paid to Larwood, the Test cricketer, than that accorded by Londoners, both male and female, who crowded the West-End cinemas to see the film version of the rumpus which was created over "leg-theory" bowling during the third Test match at Adelaide. "Few feature films," a theatre manager said "have attracted such earnest attention." With all they had read during the progress of this particular cricket encounter still fresh in their memories, people poured into the cinemas to see the actual incidents for themselves. Verdicts which were by no means unanimous. "Leg-theory," despite its apparent success, is not favoured by all cricketers.

"ONCE IN A LIFETIME"

A SKIT ON HOLLYWOOD

The motion picture industry "kids" itself unmercifully in "Once in a Lifetime," the Universal comedy which comes to the Central Theatre on Wednesday.

This satire on fantastic production methods of Hollywood studios is one continual shriek of laughter, taking the audience not only into the forbidden precincts of the sound stages during the making of a picture, but into the private offices of reputedly great executives. In this hilarious production we see incredibly "dumb" small-time vaudeville actor installed as supervisor of a leading studio, and acclaimed as the genius of Hollywood.

The exceptional cast appearing in "Once in a Lifetime" includes Jack Oakie, Sidney Fox, Aline MacMahon, Russell Hopton, Zasu Pitts, Louise Fazenda and many others.

"A FAREWELL TO ARMS"

FILM OF A FAMOUS U.S. NOVEL

Far more difficult than adaptation of the ordinary play or novel into a screen story was the task of converting Ernest Hemingway's successful "A Farewell To Arms" into the picture which Helen Hayes, Gary Cooper and Adophe Menjou will enact on the screen of the King's Theatre, beginning Thursday.

That is the opinion of Benjamin Glazer and Oliver H. P. Garrett, the two gentlemen who accomplished the task.

"We had a book which undoubtedly rates as one of the most widely-read in American literature," explains Glazer. "The country is filled with Hemingway fans who would resent any great liberties being taken with this book or the dialogue.

"Yet we were faced with the problem of making the story dramatic. It is impossible to photograph a novel. A novelist can describe scenes and thoughts, he can sweep over great explanses of time and space. But drama must bring those things to life before your eyes.

"We were faced with the fact that the book had been dramatized for the stage both in New York and Berlin. We analyzed these plays and discovered their faults. The playwrights had merely taken a pair of scissors to the book and cut out the scenes they could use.

"We did not do that. Naturally a whole book cannot be photographed and presented in less than two hours. The first thing we did was to drop useless portions of the plot which even a Hemingway lover will not miss. But on the other hand, in several cases we explained a paragraph into a series of scenes.

"But the screen play is Hemingway because we are using his story, his characters, his ideals and his actual words in all the major

"BEHIND THE MASK"

A REAL THRILLER BOOKED FOR QUEEN'S

"Behind The Mask" is a shocker that will shock even those who are naturally equipped with mental shock absorbers. This Columbia film that will open at the Queen's Theatre on Thursday is terrifying, electrifying, horrifying, mystifying! It's a daring tale of horror that will glue you to your seat with fright, but at the same time fascinate you.

"Behind The Mask," relates the acts of a cruel, ruthless person, who stooped to the most inhuman means to destroy anyone who interfered with his nefarious business. This dreaded figure known merely as Mr. X, was the mysterious leader of a notorious dope ring. He functioned through a gang, who worked for him faithfully without knowing his identity. No one dares to find out. Although he is only a fearful symbol to them, they know what horrible fates the too curious have suffered at his hands. But the Secret Service is determined to track down the dangerous person in spite of heavy losses they have suffered through him. How Jack Hart, a government agent finally learns the identity of Mr. X and breaks up the dope ring, provides drama packed with thrilling highlights, surprise action and gruesome incidents.

Scenes that will bring cold beads of perspiration on your forehead and make you clammy and squeamish with fright are in the hospital where Dr. Steiner destroys those who are considered "excessive" by Mr. X.

Jack Holt, one of the screen's most manly heroes, plays the Secret Service agent with his usual sincerity. The extremely versatile and capable Boris Karloff, the terrifying monster of "Frankenstein," adds another interesting characterization to his rapidly increasing list, with a sinister portrayal in this new "horror mystery." Constance Cummings, Claude King, Willard Robertson, Bertha Mann and Edward Van Sloan are well chosen for their particular parts. John Francis Dillon proves his directorial versatility with his excellent handling of the film.

key scenes of the romance." Glazer, in co-operation with Garrett, followed closely Hemingway's story in the young American officer in the Italian ambulance corps and the latter's devastating romance with an English nurse.

Only the strong deserve to live. This is a tenet of the civilization of the Eskimos of the arctic, and one which they observe as a matter of firm belief. When a member of an Eskimo tribe has reached an advanced age, and has become so weakened that he cannot enter into the activities of the village, he is often sealed in his ice house or igloo, and there left to die. He may hasten the end by suicide, if he so desires, and often takes this method of ending his earthly cares.

The observance of this custom is shown in "Igloo," Ewing Scott's Universal drama produced by Edward Small in the ice-bound Alaskan village of Point Hope, and now showing at the Central Theatre. Enacted by a cast entirely composed of Eskimos, headed by a handsome stalwart named Chee-Ak, it is at once the most exciting and the most intimate picture ever made in this land of eternal ice and snow.

The tribe, seeking food and the open sea, deserts its village and leaves behind, sealed in his igloo, the aged father of the heroine. But in the story the daughter, seconded by the sympathetic Chee-Ak of another tribe, refuses to abide by the custom, and insists that her father accompany the caravan.

In the making of these scenes it was difficult for the Director to convince the old man that he was not actually to be left behind—that the action was only being simulated for the purposes of the motion picture.

"DEVIL AND THE DEEP"

TENSE DRAMA AT THE KING'S

It is difficult to know what to say about "Devil and the Deep" the new picture at the King's Theatre.

An attempt to arrange my impressions produces the following: "Charles Laughton; an amazingly clever piece of acting, I hope I shall see him again . . . Tallulah Bankhead has found a really good part here and plays it well . . . Garry Cooper; I like him, he plays with directness, simply and convincingly . . . . The story is overwhelming, it is tense and terribly tragic . . . my attention has been held every moment of the film . . . I am tired, but I have seen a picture I shall not forget, a big picture worth playing and very well played. The production was excellent."

When I try to put these impressions into words to sum up the picture I find myself hesitating. "Devil and the Deep" is too real for entertainment, too tragic for recreation, and yet the acting is so good that I feel I should have been very sorry to have missed it. If you enjoy good acting and good production you should see this picture.

MUNSANG COLLEGE PRIZE GIVING

SPEECH DAY AND ASSEMBLY HALL OPENED

EXCELLENT SCHOLASTIC RECORD FOR 1932

Munsang College, Kowloon, held its annual prize-giving on Saturday afternoon, when the Bishop of Victoria, the Right Rev. R. O. Hall, distributed the awards, and also declared open the new assembly hall.

The Hon. Dr. S. W. Tso, and the Director of Education, Mr. N. L. Smith were among the large number of people present.

The Bishop gave a very brief address, and after a warm tribute to the Headmaster, Mr. R. Huang, spoke of the problem of the employment of leisure during life. Emphasis was laid on the value of a hobby that really appealed to one and could always be fallen back upon when otherwise "there is nothing to do!"

DR. TSO'S FELICITATIONS

The Hon. Dr. Tso addressing the gathering said:—"On behalf of the College Council I have the great pleasure of welcoming His Lordship, the Bishop of Victoria, to this Assembly Hall; the opening ceremony of which he has so successfully performed. We are grateful indeed to His Lordship for the benediction which he has just pronounced upon the College, and I hope that under the blessings so invoked the College may be given strength and vigour to continue its work of usefulness.

We are greatly honoured by the presence of His Lordship and of Mr. N. L. Smith, the Director of Education. Their presence here will, I feel sure, stimulate all those concerned, particularly members of the College staff who have laboured assiduously and unassumingly for the past years, to further efforts in making the College a still greater success.

The need has long been felt of a Hall, such as this, to give more class rooms and a place for school assembly. It is due to the generosity of our well wishers and supporters, of whom I must mention the names of Messrs. Li Heung Kuk, Ng Keng Yin and Lam Tze Fung, who have donated to the building fund the munificent sums of $1,200, $1,000 and $500 respectively, that this building was erected and opened to-day. On behalf of the College Council I tender to them and other donors, whose names are too many to mention here, our gratitude and heart-felt thanks, in which I must also associate the name of Mr. Huang, Principal of the College, through whose energy and efforts in collecting funds the erection of this Hall was made possible.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

In the course of his report the Headmaster said:—

I am glad to announce, first of all, that two new members have joined the College Council during the year. They are Hing Shung Mok and Hiong Kok Li. Mr. Kok is the son of Mok Kong Sang, one of the founders of this school, and Mr. Li is a prominent merchant in Hong Kong who, has generously given towards the building fund of this Assembly Hall. Both take great interest in our work and in the name of the school we wish to welcome them.

The higest number of students on record was 426 as against 360 of the previous year. This number includes 65 boarders. It shows an increase of 56 students or an increase of 18 1/3 per cent. There were altogether 30 teachers, 21 of whom were working at full time and 9 part time. School was opened on 246 days and the average attendance was 93.6 per cent.

We presented 7 boys for the University Matriculation Examinations. Five candidates were successful; four passed the Matriculation and one qualified for the Senior Local. One of our candidates, Li Wai Cheong, succeeded in gaining the Government Scholarship. I am glad to say, for the first time, we have two old boys studying in Hong Kong University.

In the Junior Local Examinations we also entered 7 boys, and the result was a one hundred per cent. pass. Besides we have obtained 5 distinctions in English and Mathematics. The record of this school for the three previous years in succession has been 50 per cent. pass, and now in the result of the two examinations combined we have made a record among the Hong Kong Schools (85.7 per cent.).

Official Visits.

In athletics the students have made rapid progress. The school is very grateful to several land owners for placing their large play-ground at our disposal, free of rent. It has been extensively used by the students all the year round. On it we have one Volleyball court, two tennis courts and three basketball courts.

Practically every scholar in the school had enjoyed good health throughout the year. The Medical Officer for Schools, Dr. E. M. Minett visited the school on two occasions during the year and we are very thankful to her for her invaluable suggestions for improvement in health matters.

Mr. A. O. Brawn, Inspector of English Schools, visited us on May and again in November. The following is an extract taken from his report:—"I visited Munsang College and was again favourably impressed by its pleasant location, good playground and zealous staff who seem particularly interested in the moral and physical welfare of their charges—one result being a particularly good tone in the school," again, he said, in his second report, "Discipline—excellent."

People's Life.

I think it appropriate at each prize-giving to review the objects and principles for which this school exists. The word "Munsang" means literally, "People's Life;" and strictly speaking, this school exists for the people. We aim to serve the community, especially for the people of Kowloon, and we are entitled therefore to the support of the public.

"Teach that which gives intelligence and skill; but forget not soul culture, for out of this comes the more abundant Life bringing forth the fruits of the spirit for:

We are glad to welcome His Lordship, the Bishop of Victoria, here with us to-day. We wish to thank him for the honour of his presence and for the interest that he has shown in this school. We also wish to express our deep gratitude to our chairman, the Hon. Dr. S. W. Tso, for his continued interest in our work and for so kindly presiding at our function this afternoon.

Mr. Yim Chip Ko then made a farewell speech on behalf of the graduating class of 1932.

He said that Munsang College was impregnated with the Christian spirit. After several years spent under the guidance of the College, they had begun to realise that the main purpose of life was to serve humanity.

A vote of thanks was proposed by the Rev. W. W. Rogers and seconded by Mr. K. T. Tam and benediction was said by the Rev. A. D. Stewart.

LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 19.

The Golden Text was: "O Lord our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name" (Isa. 26:13.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath. And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God." (Luke 13: 10-13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If sickness is true or the idea of Truth, you cannot destroy sickness, and it would be absured to try. Then classify sickness and error as our sovereign antidote for error in the life-giving power of Truth acting on human belief, a power which opens the prison doors to such as are bound, and sets the captive free physically and morally." (p. 405: 6).

Sir Ian Hamilton's Gallantry.

A story of the humanity and kindliness of Sir Ian Hamilton is told by Mr. Winston Churchill in the British Legion "Journal." The Boer War, in which Sir Ian first won fame, is the scene of the incident, and Mr. Winston Churchill was then a press correspondent with the column that Sir Ian was leading from Bloemfontein to Pretoria.

The story is told of how Sir Ian repaid a Boer woman who gave him and his officers hospitality for the night, in spite of the fact that they were enemies and that seven of her sons and grandsons were "on commando" fighting against the British. The day after the battle of the passage of the Zand River Sir Ian told the woman that the British had won the day and that the Dutch would now certainly be beaten. She proudly refused to speak a word that might admit the defeat of her people.

"Tell her," said Sir Ian to the interpreter, "perhaps her sons will be taken prisoners." There was no answer. "Now, tell her to write down on a piece of paper the name of the youngest and give it to my aide-de-camp, and then, when the youth is captured, she must write to me or to the General and we will send him back to her and not keep him prisoner." She thawed a little at this, and expressed a hope that Sir Ian had been comfortable while beneath her roof.

And then, for the guns were firing, he hurried away. But the aide-de-camp remained behind for the paper.

HONG KONG, MARCH 20, 1933.

A DOG'S LIFE

The dog is the only animal which has accepted civilisation without demur. Without so much as a remonstrative bark he has submitted to centuries of experimentation during which breeders have produced canine types having little in common with that first, shaggy wolf which wagged its tail over a tasty morcel. Thus, being a good and worthy citizen, the domestic dog does not complain of his lot, but follows to heel with obedient mien and barks when beggars or burglars come to the door. In return for his dumb fidelity, the least that his human masters can do is to ensure that his life, though necessarily a dog's one, shall not be deficient in those trival amenities to which he attaches so much importance. Assuming that he is a good dog, he is grateful for a life of ease, a dry, roomy kennel and regular rations of bones and biscuits; but being superior to all other animals, he craves more than these. He likes to be taken out for a walk each day, to play hide and seek in the garden, to have plenty of water near at hand in the hot weather, and to be tied up in a yard as little as possible. These, it would seem, are very simple kindnesses, yet how often are they bestowed on the members of the canine kingdom in Kowloon? If we have seen a dozen happy dogs on the Mainland, we have seen twelve dozen miserable, unexercised and cowering mongrels who long ago should have been put out of their misery. Dogs seem to breed as fast as rabbits in this Colony, yet because of their number they are sadly neglected by those who half-heartedly claim to be their masters. We must except those sleek and well-groomed thoroughbreds, which are never allowed out unless accompanied by a member of the household, and then on a leash; but they are the aristocrats, pampered and petted, who have little to worry about in this life. It is the mongrel, the half-breed and the queer, undocumented dog with half a dozen strains in him who has such a thin time. As often as not he is not given regular meals, but is kicked into the street and left to grovel among the garbage for his food. Stoned by urchins, verminous and unwashed, he creeps along the nullahs with a tail permanently trailing between his legs; moreover, it never wags. In the summer months he scours the streets for a drop of water, and is grateful if he can find a brakish pool at the end of some gutter. At night, he slinks back to what he instinctively feels is his home and, unless kicked out beforehand, sleeps there till morning.

Hundreds of dogs in Kowloon exist in the manner we have described, and we cannot suppress the feeling that it would be far kinder to put them in the lethal chamber. The Law cannot make a good master; if a man is not in his heart fond of animals he will never understand how they should be treated. To some intelligences it is quite orthodox to kick a dog that gets in the way, to forbid it the house if it develops (through lack of care) mange or scurvy, and to give it as little food as possible. It is difficult to prevent such people from keeping dogs, for the best organisation ever devised for the protection of animals could not possibly inspect every household in which dogs are kept. There are several ways in which a dog's life can be exempted from a great deal of misery, however, and two of them entail small cost. One is for the public to aid the R.S.P.C.A. by making small monthly grants, and the other is for shopkeepers and householders to provide bowls of fresh water outside their doors during the hot weather. The S.P.C.A. has done splendid work on behalf of our dumb friends but its scope is far wider than its powers, which are handicapped by lack of funds. There are many trivial actions we can perform to make the dog's lot a happier one, however, and the best of them is to see that he does not suffer the torments of thirst when the summer sun beats pitilessly down.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS OF PUBLIC SERVICE

SPLENDID RECORD OF THE STAR FERRY COMPANY

In order to keep the vessels of the Star Ferry fleet in the pink of condition, they are docked every three months and thoroughly overhauled. Since the inception of the Company, no case of collision or any serious accident has occurred to any of the ferry boats, which is, when all is considered, a striking record.

Passengers may often wonder why the coxwains appear to stop the ferries in mid harbour to allow a passing vessel to get by, even though there appears to be an abundance of time for the ferry to cross. This is merely one example of the great precaution taken against a possible collision. "Safety First" is a policy that has justified itself in the records of the Company.

It is interesting to trace the location of the wharves used by the Star Ferries. In 1898, when the present Company took over the service, the wharf on the Hong Kong side was situated at Ice House Street, not in its present position, of course (the Praya reclamation had not been constructed then) but near Des Voeux Road. On the Kowloon side, the wharf was situated opposite the Godown Company's present office, about four hundred yards to the East of the present location. The premises consisted of a matshed and a waiting room. There was no satisfactory method of dealing with the problem of the tides when embarking and disembarking passengers, and in general berthing arrangements were not satisfactory.

The 1906 Typhoon.

This trouble came to a head in 1906 when the typhoon of disastrous memory demolished the wharf and made it necessary to construct a new one. This was done on the site of the Police wharf, but the triangular chaped construction proved a delusion and a snare. Sometimes a ferry boat would take a quarter of an hour to berth. Finally, in 1910, the present berthing arrangements were completed and proved satisfactory. But one difficulty remains. At the approach of a typhoon it is necessary to draw the stop-cocks from the landing-stage and sink it, otherwise it would be battered and crushed by the stormy seas. After the passing of the typhoon the tank of the landing-stage has to be pumped free of water and as this takes some time and is attended by with many mechanical and engineering difficulties, the Star Ferry Company has been investigating various other kinds of landing-stages.

The Star Ferry Company is recognised as being one of the soundest undertakings in the Colony. The service is carried on in fair weather and foul. There has, until recently, been a prejudice in certain quarters against living on the Mainland, and it has been complained that it in awkward having to wait for the ferries. But the regularity and frequency of the service has done much to destroy this prejudice. People have come to realise that the ferry service is as reliable and certainly more comfortable than any land transport could be.

FAREWELL TO MR. W. RUSSELL

A Bowls Stalwart

PRESENTATION & MATCH AT KOWLOON B.G.C.

Kowloon Bowling Green Club was en fete on Saturday, when a farewell match was played in honour of Mr. W. Russell, the popular interport bowler, who is shortly leaving the Colony on retirement. A presentation was also made consisting of a typewriter, a suit case and an illuminated address.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

In making the presentation, Mr. F. L. Rapley, President of the Club, said:

"We are shortly losing one of our oldest members—Mr. Willie Russell—and we are met this evening to say "au revoir" to him. This afternoon's game was arranged in his honour and I am very glad such a large number of bowlers took part. To-day's turnout of bowling members of this Club is the biggest I can remember and it says much for Mr. Russell's popularity and for the high esteem in which he is held by you all."

"Mr. Russell joined this Club in 1904—nearly thirty years ago. He has been on the Committee almost continuously and he was President in 1909. For over twenty years he was grounds convener and I believe he made himself famous for the way he kept the greens and for his wonderful vegetable garden. Some years ago he was made a Life Member for his services to the Club. He was one of the pioneers and is one of the men we have to thank for the excellent Club we have to-day."

"As a bowler he has had numerous successes—at last year's Interport Dinner we heard him described as "the grand old man of bowls in Hong Kong." He was Open Champion of the Colony in 1912 and 1931 and he also reached the final in 1914 and 1923. In 1914 the final was not played off—to the relief of his opponent and in 1923 he was only second."

"Except for a period when he was lent to the Yacht Club to teach them something about the ancient game he has skipped for us regularly since the inception of the league. He also skipped the "tug-of-war team" that went to Shanghai to play bowls in 1918—the famous "big four"—Russell, Bond, Harvey and Gerrard."

"Reference to our own honours board shews that he won the Club Championship three times—in 1907, 1909 and 1929 as well as the Vice President's Prize in 1909 and the President's in 1916.

"Besides bowling Mr. Russell has two other hobbies. Eating olives and trying to catch fish. (Laughter). It is calculated that he has consumed more olives than any other member, and he is the joint holder with "wee Hughie" of the Fishing endurance record—13 consecutive week-ends without a bite."

"He has a number of bowling expressions of his own of which his "shut the gate" and "easy boy easy" are perhaps the most familiar. He is the personification of cheerfulness and the possessor of a hearty and infectious laugh — a laugh you can tell the time by for when it becomes continuous you know it to be about half past seven."

"We shall miss his "easy boy easy," his laugh and all the other Russellisms but we shall always remember him for his cheerfulness, his good nature and his good fellowship."

"Mr. Russell, it gives me much pleasure to hand you on behalf of this Club this illuminated address and this typewriter and suit case as small tokens of our esteem and respect."

MR. RUSSELL RETURNS THANKS

Mr. Russell said in reply:

It is a great honour for me to be here to-day and play the last game that I shall probably play for some time. I thank you for your hearty good wishes and thank you for your presents—both are much appreciated. My services to the Club have always been given with my best wishes. When I joined the Club we had a matshed, and it was not till later that the old Club-House was built. The Club membership was then limited to 100 out of whom there were fifty bowlers.

There was not much tennis then. Where the new tennis courts are there was a swamp where I used to shoot snipe. I have marvelled at the growth of the club.

We had the best members in the Colony for bowls and tennis. Tennis has become more important than it was twenty years ago.

I am very pleased to see such a fine clubhouse on my retirement and will again thank you for your kindness and good wishes—kindness in presenting me with this typewriter and dressing case, and also for your good wishes.

Cheers were then given for Mr. Russell and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" very heartily sung.

Kowloon 25 Years Ago

The twenty-first annual ordinary meeting of shareholders in the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Co., Ltd. was held on Saturday afternoon in the City Hall. The Hon. Mr. H. Keswick presided and there were present Sir Paul Chater, Messrs. G. Friesland, A. Fuchs, E. Shellim, A. S. Cousland, G. H. Medhurst, C. S. Gubbay (directors), Hon. Mr. E. Osborne (secretary), Messrs. H. W. Locker, T. F. Hoogh, W. E. Clarke, F. Smith, H. Humphreys, E. S. Kadoori, W. H. Wickham, Captain Brown and E. Ellis.

The Chairman said:—Gentlemen, with your permission, I propose to take the report and accounts as read. From the accounts presented you will learn that there was a large decrease in our profits, last year, but in view of the very adverse conditions of trade during that year, and in view of the crippling effect of the 1906 typhoon, nothing else could have been expected.—Hongkong Daily Press, March 20, 1908.

KOWLOON BEATEN BY NAVY

On their own ground, Kowloon lost to the Navy by one goal to three. The Navy were decidedly a better team, and twenty minutes after the start, Perkins scored from them. Kowloon then had a brief period of attack, and Phillips equalised from a corner.

After the interval, the sailors again took up the attack, and McPhee regained the lead after a sole effort. At this stage. The sailors should have scored several goals but were contantly being penalised for "offside. However, they again broke through, and Hudspill increased their lead. Just before the end they were awarded a penalty for handling, but Perkins, who took the spot kick, ballooned the ball over the bar.

Kowloon:— Cook; Stavely, Walker; Whitfield, Bliss, Wood; White, Webb, Hill, Phillips and Bickford.

Navy:— Butterill; Buchanan, Edmunds; Davey, Sheriff, Robertson; Warne, Davis, Perkins, McPhee and Hudspill.

Referee: Mr. J. W. Baldwin.

THIRD DIVISION

R.A.S.C. v. RECREIO

Played at King's Park, this match ended in a win for the R.A.S.C. by the only goal scored. A misunderstanding between the Recreio backs enabled Hup to send in a hard drive to the top corner of the net.

ADVERTISING AS A FACTOR IN TRADE RECOVERY

DINNER GIVEN BY MILLINGTON, LTD.

HONG KONG PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

The vital necessity of planning continuous advertising and selling efforts, as an essential tonic for the restoration of trade, was stressed by Mr. F. C. Millington at the dinner given by Millington, Ltd., on Saturday evening at the Peninsula Hotel.

The guests, about one hundred in number, well represented the trading community of the Colony and were for the most part the men who handle the advertising of their firms. An opportunity was given for the guests to express their own feelings on the subject under discussion and some interesting points of view were revealed. Mr. E. J. Ainslie representing Lane, Crawford Ltd. stressed the point that every town has its own particular advertising problems, Mr. Ma Man Fai of the Sincere Company Ltd. pointed out the great importance of a closer co-operation between the coast ports and Mr. Vydia of Messrs. Amritmal Ojha spoke of the need of co-operation between the various nationalities represented by the business community of the Colony.

PLANS FOR DIFFICULT TIMES

After dinner an interesting film was shown giving a clear picture of what Millington's mean to the advertisers of Shanghai. Pictures of the work of the various departments and of several excellent poster stations were given.

Mr. W. Clark manager of the Hong Kong branch of Millington, Ltd. welcomed the guests in a short speech. The dinner had, he said, been planned for two reasons, one to welcome Mr. F. C. Millington, the head of the firm, to Hong Kong and to give him an opportunity of meeting representatives of the business community here., and the other to show something of the aims and achievements of Millington Ltd.

Hong Kong's Good Fortune.

Mr. Millington after welcoming his guests said that a new era had started for Millington Ltd. in Hong Kong. Mr. Bush the late manager in Hong Kong had been known to the Chinese as "the broom," Mr. Clark was a new broom and he was going to sweep well and sweep clean and be of definite service to his clients and his company. He had the complete support of the parent company in Shanghai who had the fullest confidence in him. (Applause.)

We were living in difficult times, Mr. Millington continued, he had just returned from a trip which had taken him to England, America and Germany, business was poor and depression evident all over the world. Coming closer home, both Singapore and Shanghai had been harder hit than Hong Kong. His firm had had to cancel in 1932 contracts for Tls. 84,000 owing to the war disturbance in Shanghai. Hong Kong had not yet felt the full force of the depression and he hoped it would not have to do so.

Advertising was of vital importance in difficult times. The shipping world had been hit particularly hard, what did the companies do? They advertised summer cruises and thousands of people left England for £1 a day and saw the world. Ships were put into action that would otherwise have been laid up, and 300 cruises were taking place this year. All this was built up on advertising. Hong Kong had benefitted. Bernard Shaw came here on the Empress of Britain and the whole world heard about it. How many people would feel the urge to come to Hong Kong next year and see if they could not be ruder than Shaw! (Laughter.)

The depression in America had led in many cases to barter taking the place of cash, and this barter system had been extended even to advertising, in one case he met the canvasser, the lay out man, and the publication all accepting commodities in exchange for advertising.

Times were difficult but we must face them courageously, work harder, work longer hours, give greater and more willing service, make "service before self" our motto.

In conclusion Mr. Millington said: Gentlemen are you doing your bit to fight this depression? Are you planning ahead? Are you making the most of the service that is in your midst ready to help you? If you are not then call our friend Mr. Clark here and get him to come round to discuss the matter with you. I shall have great pleasure in showing you in a few minutes a short film showing what is behind our service in Shanghai.

Hong Kong's Special Needs.

Mr. E. J. Ainslie of Lane, Crawford's said that while he knew Messrs. Millington reputation as advertising expects in Shanghai, he hoped they would not forget the differences between Shanghai and Hong Kong, and that the problem of the latter place needed handling that was based on local conditions and characteristics.

Mr. Victor Labrum after thanking the hosts for their lavish hospitality said, amid laughter and applause, "I hope this will be made an annual function." He was sure that Millington's was going to help Hong Kong to "carry the baby," through these difficult times.

To Promote Sales.

Mr. Vydia said that what the merchant wanted from advertising was not the mere selling to them of advertising space, and individual advertisements, by persuasive canvassers, but general advise and help as to how the merits and qualities of an article could be brought to the notice of the purchasers and sales effected.

Advertising, he believed, was the life blood of commerce. It was an aspect of business that required skilled handling. He wished the advertising habit could be spread that professional men, lawyers and doctors, for example could be made to advertise.

Another thing needed was a more cosmopoliton spirit in Hong Kong. Business people had got to learn to know each other better, and the different lines of business to understand each others problems and points of view.

Our Isolation.

Mr. Ma Man Fai, General Manager of the Sincere Co., Ltd., said that as the owner of a little shop in Hong Kong he was whole hearted and perhaps a well-qualified supporter of advertising. He felt rather embarrassed being between two sellers of advertising—Major Brasier Creagh of Millington—as represented by his wife,—and Colonel Murrow, Chairman of the Directors of the Hongkong Daily Press. In spite of everything Hong Kong had not done so badly last year, and he believed we had been through the worst period. We all of us needed to do our bit for Hong Kong and it was no bad thing for outsiders to give us a buck up!

After hearing what Mr. Millington had said about other countries we could see there was no reason for saying what a miserable place Hong Kong was. There was too much talk of that kind. A thing we needed was a Trade Council. There were, however, far too many proposition put forward and discussed and adopted, but nothing really came of it, no tangible benefits. In spite of all our trials nothing had greatly changed. Hong Kong was due for rejuvenation and that rejuvenation must come from within. We needed closer contact with Shanghai, and with Canton and all the other ports. The Canton merchant had a very different outlook from the Hong Kong one, but though we were so close we did not really know what this difference was. We had a lot to learn from these other places and also something to teach them.

Mr. S. W. Wan, Advertising Manager of the Tsun Wan Yat Po and the Tsun Wan Man Po, also spoke briefly, thanking the hosts and assuring them of the co-operation of the Chinese Press.

The British Industries Fair.

Major Brasier Creagh, of Messrs. Millington's, said that the Firm was particularly anxious to help the British Industries Fair, which was being arranged to open on Empire Day. He would like to see a special Hong Kong section, devoted to local industries, an Indian section, and Canadian and Australian sections. Hong Kong needed a League of Advertisers—an organisation in which men engaged in the business of advertising could meet and do the best for the lines they wished to assist.

The S.S. Lurline In Hong Kong

AMERICA'S WONDER-LINER ON HER MAIDEN VOYAGE

COOLING SYSTEM GIVES "TEMPERATE" CLIMATE IN TROPICS

America's newest luxury liner, the s.s. Lurline was due here this morning, in the course of her maiden voyage, a cruise through the South Seas and the Orient. The Lurline has a definite link with the earlier days of modern shipping. She is named after one of the earliest of the ships of the Matson Line. The original Lurline was a sailing vessel trading between America and the Orient, more than thirty years ago.

The skipper of the original ship Lurline, Capt. Jackson, is one of the passengers on board the new liner. There must be few old mariners who have lived to see the successor of their sailing ship make her maiden voyage under steam from oil engines, as has this grand old man of the sea. Captain Jackson is an invalid, but still takes a keen interest in ship, and he has a very warm regard for the 1933 reincarnation of the Lurline, looking upon her as if he owned her. Captain Jackson retired only a short time ago, and he was granted this voyage in the new Lurline as a mark of the esteem in which his company holds him.

26,000 Tons.

Lurline is a 26,000 tons vessel, and cost $8,000,000 to build. She was completed early in January this year, and embarked on her maiden voyage in the middle of the same month. She will occupy 102 days in the trip, and covers 30,650 miles calling at 40 ports in 10 countries. Of the complete trip time 30 days will have been spent in port.

Her overall length is 632 feet, and her beam 70 feet. She is fitted with Deisel engines which give her a speed of 22½ knots. There are nine decks, and six of them are open to the passengers. The storm deck is entirely enclosed by glass windows, all of which can be raised simultaneously by electricity to make it secure in storm or hurricane

The Cooling System.

One of the most remarkable features of the ship is the fine cooling system which has been installed in the public rooms. Actually the heat is only some ten degrees cooler than outside, but in the tropics it seems a great deal less than that on account of the fact that the air inside is drier.

Magnificently appointed throughout, the accommodation of the Lurline affords every passenger complete seclusion. Every cabin is fitted with its bath, and some of the suites on the upper decks have private verandahs overlooking the water. In these suites a passenger could live alone from the time he embarks to the end of the voyage, if he chose, and the only inconvenience he would suffer would be that of limitations of space. Double cabins are fitted with twin beds, and there are luxury suites which provide complete "private flat" accommodation for four persons. A telephone system installed throughout the ship makes bell pushes in cabins and public rooms (except the bars unnecessary, and beside the purser's office on the main deck there is a telephone switchboard cabin where a charming girl operator deals with the requests of passengers.

Floating Hotel.

Throughout, the Lurline is more on the lines of an hotel than a ship, and it is only when one comes to a porthole and catches a glimpse of the sea, or goes up on the open decks, that one realises that it is a ship and not a hotel in the West End of London or on Broadway. That has been the aim of the designers, apparently, and they have certain succeeded in marked degree.

The Lurline left New York on January 19, and travelled by way of Cuba, the Panama Canal, and California to the South Seas, where she called at the Hawaiian Islands, Samoa and Fiji, en route to New Zealand. She then called at the Australian ports, including Sydney, and came by way of New Guinea to Bali and Java. From there she went up to Penang, Singapore and Bangkok, and by way of Philippine Islands, China and Japan will return to Hawaii and back to San Francisco, where the cruise ends.

The Passengers.

There were 180 passengers on board when she left America, but some of the most well-known left the ship en route to Singapore.

Miss Hutton, the inheritor of the Woolworth millions, and reputed to be the richest girl in the world, travelled by the Lurline from New York to Sydney, and Mr. George Vanderbilt, the youngest of the famous millionaire family of New York, went as far as Penang, where he left the ship with the intention of going hunting in the upcountry forests of Malaya. The Vanderbilts are of particular interest, for they are one of the oldest families resident in New York, their ancestors having been among the original Dutch settlers in America, who, before the British came along and took possession, had colonised what is now New York under the name of New Amsterdam.

Others have left the ship during the voyage, and there are now only 172 people aboard. Of these 47 left the ship at Penang to make the trip to Angkor, but rejoined at Bangkok.

Among other passengers on board are Mrs. Edward McDougall, wife of the president of the famous American firm of Libby's, manufacturers of condensed milks and other tinned products; Mr. Albert Hopeman, of Rochester, New York, who was responsible for all the interior woodwork of the Lurline and her sister ships, the Mariposa and Monterey, and Miss Rachel Gatch, whose hobby is the collecting of unusual musical instruments.

An interesting feature of this passenger list is that there are more married couples among them than there have ever been before on a cruise of this character, and the women, as on the Resolute, largely outnumber the men.

PROTECTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

LAST year was one of the most momentous in the long history of British trade. The primary reason for this was that 1932 was probably the nadir year in the greatest trade slump that the world has ever seen. Another reason was that, after nearly a century of being a Free Trade country, Great Britain, departed from the Cobdenite doctrine. Certain import duties were imposed in the autumn of 1931, but last year was the first complete year under the new regime. The chief reason for this striking volte-face was the need to redress the adverse trade balance, which was held to be a primary cause of the depreciation of the pound sterling. The results of such a complete break with Great Britain's economic past cannot, of course, be fully measured till a few years elapse, and in considering the figures for Great Britain's overseas trade in 1932 one must constantly have in mind that they cannot rightly be compared with those of previous years.

Bearing in mind, then, the different fiscal dispensations under which trade functioned in 1931 and 1932, we find that the main purpose of the change, i.e., to secure a greater balance between imports and exports was to a considerable extent achieved. There was an improvement in the country's visible trade balance last year of £121,895,000, the excess of imports over exports falling from £403,976,000 to £287,081,000. The improvement was entirely due to a reduction of imports, for there was no increase in exports, but, on the contrary, a small reduction. Comparing "protectionist" 1932 with "free-trade" 1931 we find that imports fell by 18.3 per cent. and exports by 6.6 per cent. Imports were reduced from £882,175,000 to £703,133,000, while exports declined by only £25 millions.

From the above figures it seems clear that the Government's intention to secure a more equitable balance in trade was aided by the imposition of tariffs. It is important, however, to remember that the depreciation of the pound sterling in terms of the remaining gold currencies has also operated to reduce imports and has served at the same time as a bonus to exports. It may be to point out here that the balance of trade so far dealt with in this account is the "visible" trade balance. Great Britain has always had in addition to her visible imports and exports, a large amount of "invisible" exports. These are the payments made for services, such as banking fees and profits, freights earned by the mercantile marine, insurance premiums, and interest on foreign loans. In recent years these have been much reduced, so the improvement in the visible balance comes at an opportune moment. It is thought that Britain's invisible exports must have further contracted last year. The decline in international trade in 1932, which was accentuated by the breakdown of the international financial machinery, must have reduced shipping and banking earnings, whilst the list of defaulters on British foreign loans has unfortunately grown longer during the year. More than usual interest therefore attaches to the Board of Trade estimates, showing the country's balance of payments in 1932. In 1931 the invisible income was estimated at £301 millions (against £414 millions in 1930), making a net adverse balance of payments of £108 millions, compared with a credit of £28 millions in 1930 and £103 millions in 1929.

Returning to the trade figures for 1932 and examining them by categories of goods, it is of interest to note that the outstanding feature was the decline in imports of articles classed as wholly or mainly manufactured abroad. The decline is very marked in some cases and may be given here as an indication of the great change that has taken place in Britain's trade due to the causes above mentioned, namely, tariffs and currency depreciation.

The figures here given are in millions of pounds, those for 1931 being in parenthesis. Pottery, &c. £5 (£9); iron and steel, £8 (19); electrical goods, £2 (£6); machinery, £10 (£15); cotton textiles, £1 (£8); wool textiles, £2 (£13); silk textiles, £3 (£8); apparel, £7 (£10); chemicals, £9 (£13); and miscellaneous articles, £15 (£28). At first some of those goods were subjected to the abnormal importations duty of 50 per cent. advalorem, a duty subsequently modified in certain cases under the permanent tariff scheme.

The decline of £8½ millions in imports of raw materials was largely the result of lower prices, for many of the more important classes of materials showed increases in quantity. Raw materials were naturally not taxed, or subject only to a light duty. Among exports a few groups showed increases, cotton textiles, for example, an increase of over £6,000,000, and chemicals, and cutlery and hardwares, &c.

OBITUARY

DUKE OF ABRUZZI

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

ROME, March 18.

THE death occurred here to-day of Prince Luigi Amedeo Guiseppe Maria Ferdinando Francesco, Duke of Abruzzi, in his 61st year.

The Duke of Abruzzi, who was a famous traveller and explorer, was born in Madrid, being the third son of Amadeo, Duke of Aosta and Princess Marie del Pozzo della Cisterna. He ascended Mount St. Elias, Alaska in 1896, and four years later he led an expedition to the North Pole region, penetrating nearer to the Pole than anyone else at that time. His party reached Lat. 86 degrees 33 north, thus beating Nansen's previous record. In 1906 he conducted an expedition to Mount Ruwenzori and three years later to Mount Kenia.

LORD LOVAT

FAMOUS HIGHLAND CHIEFTAIN

Lord Lovat had a fatal seizure after watching his son, the Master of Lovat, win the last race in the New College and Magdalen Point-to-Point Steeplechases at Little Tew. He was 81 years of age.

Lord Lovat was Sir Simon Joseph Fraser, K.T., the Chief of the Fraser Clan, and the fourteenth baron of a line which in the past was strongly attached to the Jacobite cause.

The most notable of his predecessors was Simon, Lord Lovat, who joined the Young Pretender, and was appointed by him general of the Highlands and created Duke of Fraser. He did not long survive the honour, as in 1746 he was tried for high treason and beheaded on Tower Hill.

The late Lord Lovat succeeded his father in the title at the age of 15. For three years he held a commission in the 1st Life Guards. During the South African War he organised and commanded the Lovat Scouts, who were recruited from the stalkers and ghillies on the Highland estates, who knew how to meet the Boers at their own tactics. For his services he was awarded the D.S.O.

On his return he raised two Yeomanry regiments, which formed part of the Highland Mounted Brigade, which he commanded with distinction during the war. He saw service in Gallipoli, France, and Flanders, and was given the K.C.M.G.

In 1919 he was appointed chairman of the Forestry Commission, having already gained considerable experience as a wartime Director of Forestry, but much of his knowledge was the result of the systematic afforestation he had carried out on his Highland estates, which covered 180,000 acres.

Towards the end of 1926 Lord Lovat was appointed Parliamentary Under-Secretary for the Dominions, and during his term of office he made an extensive tour of Canada, New Zealand, and Australia in furtherance of overseas settlement.

In 1910 he married the Hon. Laura Lister, a daughter of the fourth Baron Ribblesdale, and a niece of the Countess of Oxford and Asquith. Her marriage took place from 10, Downing-street, Mr. Asquith being then Prime Minister.

The heir to the barony is the elder son, the Hon. Simon Christopher Joseph Fraser, Master of Lovat, who is 21 years of age, and a second-lieutenant in the Scots Guards. The other son is the Hon. Hugh Charles Fraser, aged 15, and there are three daughters, the Hon. Magdalene Fraser, the Hon. Veronica Fraser, and the Hon. Mary Fraser.

★ News and Views ★

His Majesty and the Craft.

The gracious intention of the King to open the new Freemasons' Hospital at Ravenscourt Park in July recalls the fact that his Majesty is not a member of the Craft.

In this he differs from many other members of the Royal family. King Edward was Grand Master from 1874 until he came to the throne, when he was succeeded in that office by the present Grand Master, the Duke of Connaught.

The Prince of Wales is a Senior Grand Warden and Provincial Grand Master of Surrey; his brother, the Duke of York, is a Senior Grand Warden and Provincial Grand Master of Middlesex; while Prince Arthur of Connaught is a Past Grand Warden and holds the position of Provincial Grand Master of Berkshire.

Keen Interest.

The King has always taken the keenest interest in Freemasonry, especially on its charitable side.

One may hazard the suggestion that had it not been for his long absence at sea and on his Empire tours, he would have followed the example of his father and joined the craft.

At Thorpe Lodge.

Mr. Montague Norman's rôle as a mystery man is familiar. As a result few people have ever seen the interior of his home—Thorpe Lodge, Campden Hill.

The entrance hall is very striking. The floor is of black marble, on which lies a magnificent royal blue carpet. The stairs are of satinwood, with panelled walls. Indeed, each ground floor room is panelled in a different wood.

This panelling represents one of the Bank Governor's hobbies. Whenever he goes abroad he keeps one eye open for suitable trees. Having found one, he brings it back to England, has it dried, and then has the panelling made from it by a country carpenter. It may be added that every wood used comes from trees to be found in the Empire.

For Music.

One of the most remarkable rooms in the house is the music-room. This was built to Mr. Norman's own designs, and, I am told, is acoustically perfect.

At one end there is a dais for performers. Mr. Norman is passionately fond of music, though it would be a sharp eye which could perceive him at a public concert.

The Karens.

In the recent Honours list a knighthood was conferred on Dr. San Crombie Po, the leader of the Karens. It has given great satisfaction to the loyalists in Burma. To people unacquainted with that country the Karens are an unknown race. As a community they are warmly attached to the Empire, and the distinction received by their leader is in recognition of his personal and their collective loyalty.

The Karens, obviously, come mainly from the Karenni States in Burma, but they have settled just anywhere in the country, as the Welsh have in England. Although they have particular strongholds the most notable is the port of Bassein.

"Irregular" Loyalists.

The Welsh are mentioned because the analogy is no new one. The Karens are famous for their choirs, for religious zeal, for hill-bred stockiness, for a capacity of self-expression, and for language difficulties.

Their position during the Burma rebellion was difficult. Mostly Christians, their small communities were often isolated from local sympathy, but instead of cracking under this strain they rallied to the Government's aid and many of the "Irregulars" given deserved bouquets for dealing with rebels were nothing more or less than a few Karen comrades uniformed and sanctioned by the Government.

In times when loyal friends are often forgotten in the anxiety to placate present or potential enemies, the British in Burma warmly approve of any honour accorded to the Karens.

Physiological Limits of Flying.

Great Britain has won the world's records for air speed and for altitude in the air, and both feats have raised questions whether the limit of human powers has been reached.

Wing Commander G. S. Marshall, of the R.A.F. Medical Service, read a paper on the subject before the Royal Aeronautical Society. For theoretical reasons is gave it as his opinion that the safe limit of height for a person breathing pure oxygen is 42,000 feet if he is to take moderate exercise and 44,000 feet if he is merely to go up and come down again immediately. These figures, he said, represented what he regarded as the limit of safety and not the limit of possible performance.

As regards speed, he said that there is no physiological limit to the speed; at which man may travel uniformly and in a straight line. Complications occurred when there were substantial alterations of speed, or the reverse, and turning and banking brought in the problem of centrifugal force. Opinions differed, he said, as to the medical cause for the temporary blindness known as "blacking out" when a pilot turned at high speed, but he thought it was due to blood being drawn from the eye to the abdominal blood-vessels. He suggested a form of belt which he believed would mitigate this.

The second general meeting of the Hongkong University Medical Society will be held on Tuesday, March 21, when Mr. Chui Put Po will read a paper on "The Pathogenesis of Acute Haematogenous Osteamyelitis."

H.E. the Governor of Macao, Senhor Antonio Jose Bernardes de L. Miranda, is making an official visit to H.E. the Governor, Sir William Peel on March 31. The distinguished visitor is due to arrive at noon on March 31, and will make an official landing, accompanied by his wife, daughter and A.D.C. The visitors will spend the night at Government House, where a dinner and reception are being held in their honour. The party will leave for Macao on the evening of April 1.

The wedding took place on Saturday at the Registry of the Supreme Court, between Mr. Wesley Thom, B.Sc., and Miss Millie Chan. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Chan Thong, former comprador of the Dairy Farm Ltd., while the bridegroom is on the staff of the Central Hospital at Nanking. A large gathering was present at the Registry and at the reception which was held at Lane, Crawfords. Dr. Li Shu Fan, proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom, the uncle of the latter and the father of the former replying on their behalf. The honeymoon is to be spent in Shanghai.

SIAM'S IMMIGRANT TAX

BIG INCREASE OF RATE NEXT MONTH

Bangkok, March 3.—This week has witnessed an influx of immigrants from China which is not difficult of explanation. The fee for each immigrant entering at present is Tcs. 40, from April 1st it will be Tcs. 110.

This large pump is sufficient account for the increase. Three steamers arriving over the week-end brought in practically 3,500 deck passengers, and doubtless the boats arriving all through March will be as full. How Bangkok or the outer marches, are going to assimilate this extra dabour in the present difficult time is difficult to foresee, and adds not a little to the difficulties of the police and others responsible for the safety of the capital. Fortunately the staple food rice, is cheap and there is plenty of accommodation of a kind, but the problem is to what form of labour these thousands, and the others now afloat or arriving before the new schedule becomes affective, are to be allocated.

From the Files.

LOOKING BACK 50 YEARS

Concerning the loss of the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Co.'s steamer Meli, we have been favoured by the manager of the company here with a few further particulars. According to the advices received by the Saltes from Haiphong, on Monday night, it would seem that the Meli grounded on the bar of the river going up to Hue in heavy weather. Capt. Null at once turned his attention towards lightening the vessel to get her off, as the steamer was in a bad position with the rough sea. He left her in one of the boats to get lighters or junks to take cargo off, and he had not long got away when the steamer went over on her side, and some of the crew were swept off.—Hongkong Daily Press, March 20, 1883.

Looking Back 25 Years.

As briefly mentioned in our issue of yesterday a big fire occurred at West Point on Thursday night by which five godowns were gutted and their contents of tea, matting and tar destroyed. The alarm was not conveyed to the Fire Bridge until some time after seven o'clock and then every available man and available apparatus was employed. The two steamers were out (one from West Point and the other from Central) as well as the fire float and six hydrants were in use.—Hongkong Daily Press, March 20, 1908.

SHOPS IN KOWLOON

Many tourists in the past have made a great mistake in not visiting the shops in Kowloon which carry a large variety of choice things of special interest to travellers.

It is a real disappointment to Kowloon merchants for visitors not to even call on them, after they have gone to not a little trouble and expense to prepare special displays of goods and to advertise same for their benefit.

We would call the attention of readers especially to the shops in Kowloon whose advertisements appear on this page, as well as others in the vicinity of these shops, which carry a full line of Chinese art curios, silks, embroideries and other choice things.

TH'E JADE TREE, LIMITEL.

The most outstanding art and curio centre in the Colony,—and probably in the entire Orient,—is the Jade Temple, which has recently been established in their own unique buildings, at Nos. 19 to 21 Hankow Road.

FOOK WENG & COMPANY.

Just across the street from the Jade Tree, at No. 20 Hankow Road, and also in the Peninsula Hotel Arcade, one can find in a shop displaying the sign of the "Golden Pagoda," a large selection of the finest embroideries and ivory ware, cloisonne, amber, and curios of various kinds.

CHIN CHIAN AND SONS

For the ladies who delight in the dainty little handkerchiefs, Messrs. Chin Chian & Sons' announcement on this page,—that they have in stock "more than 500 designs," ranging in prices from 50 cents to $90.00 per dozen,"—will surely be an indusment to call.

KOWLOON & THE NEW TERRITORIES

The original Chinese city lies some three miles to the East of the steamer and ferry wharves, but the name Kowloon now applies to the big city extending from Kowloon Peninsular towards the hills beyond. The area is mainly residential but the shops in Nathan Road and the arcade of the Peninsula Hotel are well worth a visit.

In 1861 about four square miles of the Kowloon Peninsula were ceded to Great Britain as a dependency of Hong Kong, and in 1899 a further area of approximately 280 square miles of mainland and 90 square miles of islands was leased from the Chinese Government for 99 years.

Since the larger area was taken over, rapid development has ensued and there is now an excellent motor road of about 60 miles enabling travellers with but a few hours to spare to penetrate into the heart of the British controlled territory and to enjoy the truly magnificent scenery. The country is well regulated and there is not the slightest danger of molestation. The Chinese inhabitants may be seen at their best in their native surroundings tending their miniature farms and practising their native crafts under the jurisdiction and protection of the Government of Hong Kong.

"ARCADIA."

On the opposite side of Peking Road from Chin Chian & Sons, at No. 32, will be found the Arcadia Jewellery Shop, which carries a large stock of Jade and Diamonds and other precious stones, as well as high class watches and clocks.

TAK LUNG.

One of the most interesting and valuable pieces of old Chinese art is to be found in the small and unpreetentions shop of Mr. Tak Lung, the smiling old Chinese gentleman, who is an authority on things Chinese.

COLOMBO JEWELLERY STORES.

The geniael proprietor of the Colombo Jewellery Stores, at No. 13 Hankow Road, is always willing to show his choice selection of Zircons and other oriental precious stones.

TUNG HING TRADING CO.

A visit to the shop of the Tung Hing Trading Company, at No. 45 Nathan Road, will reveal one of the finest selections of embroideries at most reasonable prices, including Silk Shawls, Bridget Coats, Tea Sets, etc.

WINDSOR BROTHERS.

The firm of Windsor Brothers, dealers in fine jewellery and precious stones from Ceylon, at No. 56 Nathan Road, has on display many things which will attract the attention of visitors.

PEKING ART RUG COMPANY.

The world-famous Peking carpets and rugs which may be inspected at No. 32 Nathan Road, only one minute from the Peninsula Hotel, are something which no tourist can afford to miss.

RENAISSANCE!

Hong Kong's real Welcome to her Visitors

Hong Kong, the Island of Fragrant Streams, has been described by one or two distinguished visitors to its shores as being (a), "stand of fish" and (b), provincial, in its attitude—but Hong Kong always offers a tremendous welcome to tourist ships.

This is not entirely cupboard love, though naturally the merchants of the Colony welcome the business that each tourist ship inevitably brings them. What is so delightful and refreshing to merchants and residents alike is the obvious pleasure that these visitors take in turning over, admiring and buying, the Oriental goods displayed to tempt them. We who have lived for several years in Hong Kong have lost that first careless rapture; the jade and the amber, the crystal and rose quartz, the marvellous porcelain and the glowing colours of cloisonné ware, are familiar wonders. We pass them daily in the shop windows, either we have already bought all we can afford or need, or we know that we cannot in any case indulge ourselves with the delight of possessing them.

We look in the glowing windows of the silk stores to see what new patterns are to be found, to check whether prices are lower or higher than a week ago, or just because we love pretty things; but our hearts no longer melt with longing; we no longer feel that mad impulse to go in and buy, and buy, and buy. We purchase what we need or what particularly tempts us but the great thrill has gone.

Each year as the Empress of Britain, the Resolute, the Berengaria and their magnificent sisters, come into our harbour, as their eager passengers begin to throng our streets we feel our pulses mounting, we swing back, five or ten years, we shop gaze in wonder and admiration, we too fall into temptation by the wayside and before the tourist liner has left harbour we have acquired new lampshades, new silks, new vases and new bijouterie. But better than all these we have passed through a renaissance, the tourists have given us back the years that we have lost while bearing the white mans burden, they have renewed our courage and given us back enand admiration, we too fall into thusiasm.

BRIEF SHOPPING GUIDE FOR LURLINE TOURISTS

Hong Kong: You are here at last, perhaps it is your first visit to this Colony which has been called "the gate-way of China," if so you will be more than ever anxious to see something of the wonderful goods produced by the artists and craftsmen of the Orient. You will want to know where you can find genuine old porcelain, bronzes and cloisonné, where jade and amber can best be bought, where you can find the exquisite embroidered linens of which you have heard; where genuine mandarin garments and all the marvellous old embroidery can be purchased. Perhaps you are considering furnishing your sun parlour with rattan, you will want in that case to know of a reliable firm of rattan exporters. No doubt you will want to buy silks, perhaps have some thin frocks or "whites" made.

The answer to all these questions will be found in the pages of this supplement. The firms who are advertising here are all well established and have a reputation for fair and honest dealing. For your convenience in locating them, two maps will be found in the supplement, one of Hong Kong, the other of Kowloon.

One thing we would specially ask, that you do not neglect Kowloon. The shops that are to be found in Nathan Road and in the quarter behind the Peninsula Hotel generally are very well worth visiting, you will of course make the acquaintance of those in the Arcade of the Hotel itself, also those along Hankow Road.

Whether you are visiting our shores for the first time or are returning here with pleasant memories of an earlier visit we bid you a warm welcome. In the pages of this supplement, we have tried to give you a helping hand, we want you to enjoy Hong Kong, to leave regretfully and to come back.

What To See in Hong Kong

BY MOTOR

The average visitor on going to a place for the first time wishes to see as much of it as he can. Drive round the New Territories and round the Island of Hongkong and it will be, we are sure, a revelation of scenery unsurpassed anywhere in the world. The New Territories are also particularly interesting, for their glimpse of the normal life of China, peaceful, pleasant and monotonous. There will be found old villages and groups of cottars, tilling the soil, by methods used for thousands of years.

BY TRAM

For those who put a new experience before comfort, there can be no better way of seeing the city of Victoria, in all its phases, than to take a tram Westward to Kennedy Town or Eastward to Shaukiwan. You will not travel too quickly, and you will be able to take in all that you see. What may strike you is that you are viewing a new, civilisation, not China of the old villages and narrow streets of its own towns; certainly not the Western way of life, which is here seen in the Central districts and on the Peak. It is Chinese—entirely Chinese, but a new China, distinct and individual.

At night time pay a visit to West Point. There you see the Arabian Nights come to life. As to Chinese theatres, there are plenty of them if you care for the experience, but if you want to return for a couple of hours back to your native land, there are modern picture houses, showing the latest releases from Hollywood and Elstree. We generally reckon to be a little bit ahead of London and New York in seeing latest productions.

ON FOOT

For the adventurous and energetic, there is nothing better than hiking where you will, up the steep hills and down the quaint lanes and byways of the town.

One suggestion for hikers and mountaineers at this time of the year is to go to the very top of the Peak, which means half an hour's brisk walk from the Upper Peak Tram Station. Make the journey in the late afternoon. You will see not only the town and the Colony lying at your feet, but, away towards the sunset, a view of waters and islands without rival in strange beauty except perhaps on the West Coast of Scotland. You will see, better than anywhere else in real life, the landscape which Leonardo do Vinci made the setting for Mona Lisa.

RACING

It may be of interest to passengers of Empress of Britain to note that they will just miss the Annual Race Meeting in Hongkong which extends over five days, the first of which is fixed for February 18. Although the day is not an official holiday, the whole Colony practically will be at Happy Valley during the day fixed for the race meeting.

Practically every big merchant in Hong Kong is a race owner, and some three hundred ponies will run at the meeting. The ponies are in two main classes, the China pony and the Australian pony. The China ponies are purchased from the North, and come mostly from Manchuria and Mongolia. A good number of them are cross-bred with Russian ponies and these prove to be far speedier than the thoroughbred China pony.

An experiment was tried in the Colony a few years ago with Australian ponies, and the experiment proving a success, a good number have since been imported. Australian ponies are much faster than China ponies and are not allowed to enter the same events, though they provide very interesting sport in races for their own class.

All the ponies engaged in the forthcoming meeting are housed in the Hongkong Jockey Club's stable at the back of Happy Valley, and there is only one training ground, Happy Valley, where a good number of owners, jockeys and other enthusiasts turn up in the early mornings to see the tryouts. Those interested can come along any morning between 6-30 and 8 a.m. when they can see the China ponies at work.

China ponies carry very heavy weights when they race. They are hardy and 10 stones on their backs is considered a light weight. They frequently race in the vicinity of twelve stones.

A steeplechase meeting takes place at Fanling on Sunday, and it might be interesting to visitors to see these ponies in action. A special race train leaves Kowloon at 1.05 p.m. There is a programme of seven races and it should be over, and the return journey completed by 7 p.m. Those interested in racing should try and make the trip to Fanling to see how the China pony takes the hurdles.

FOOTBALL

Possibly there are devotees of association football on board the Empress of Britain. To them it will be no news that the Chinese have taken very keenly to the game. In Hongkong there is just as much enthusiasm as in England over a league match. The crowds are not quite so large, but they know how to make a noise. There are a number of matches this afternoon and if anyone wants to know how young China plays and watches football they will find a visit to Caroline Hill an education.

CRICKET

Wherever Englishmen go they lay down a cricket ground. The Hongkong Cricket Club ground is the local Lords and the Kowloon Cricket Club ground is the Oval. The British community by no means has it all their own way on the cricket field, and the champions are the Indian Recreation Club. They have a delightful ground, reminiscent of a typical village cricket field in England. We are sure any cricketer who cares to visit any of these clubs, will be assured of a cordial welcome.

HONG KONG

The Island of Hong Kong lies off the Kwangtung Province, South China, and is situated 22° 22' North lat. and 113° 55' East long., about twenty miles to the east of the estuary of the Pearl River, upon which, about thirty miles inland, stands the city of Canton.

After more than two centuries of commercial relations between Canton and European merchants, Hong Kong was ceded to Great Britain in perpetuity by the Treaty of Canton early in 1841. This was confirmed by the Treaty of Nanking on August 29th, 1842.

The Island is about 10 miles long and from 2½ to 5 miles wide. It is little more than an irregular range of hills rising steeply from the sea to nearly two thousand feet at the highest point, and presents an impressive skyline, balanced by the equally rugged mainland on the other side of the Harbour.

Shops and Biuldings

GLOUCESTER BUILDING

Hongkong prides itself on "Gloucester Building." We all feel that here we have something on the top line. It is not, of course, a tower of Babel like Woolworth Building—you all know Mr. A. J. Balfour's epigram on that subject—but for design, for massiveness and for shimmering whiteness, with a graceful tower floodlit every evening, it is something for so distant an outpost as Hongkong to regard with wonder and delight. Inside are there not shops in the cool arcades filled with the treasures of the East and the wonders of the West? Everything is there from Mandarin coats and Tientsin carpets to spectacles and surgical instruments. There are picture shops and blackwood furniture shops. There are swift lifts to carry you up through the offices of lawyers, brokers, bankers and merchants to as good a restaurant and hotel as you will find anywhere in the world. You will be interested to see how we take our morning coffee and our whiskies and cocktails. There is a cocktail bar in Tudor style, a white restaurant and a big roof garden—with sweeping views over the harbour and the wooded slopes of the Peak.

Gloucester Building stands on reclaimed ground. Not so very many years ago launches and junks came alongside a pier at this very spot.

If we want more building land in Hongkong we make it. We level hills and throw them into the sea. Any engineers among you will be interested to see this process is still going on in various parts of the Colony.

When you are wearied of sightseeing and wish to watch the life of the Colony at your ease, there is no better place to make your headquarters than Gloucester Building.

GRAY'S YELLOW LANTERN SHOPS

Tourists in Hongkong will no doubt come across these shops as there are four of them, one in the Hongkong Hotel, one in Gloucester Building, one in Alexandra Building and one in Peninsula Hotel.

For hand embroidered lingerie, dinner table cloths, Point D'Venise and Exquisite Linens, pyjamas and hand embroidered linens there is no better place than one of the "Grays" shops. The shops are well-known in Shanghai and Manila and enjoy the confidence of the Hongkong public.

LAZARUS

What is more prosaic then a pair of spectacles, and what is more distressful than to break or lose your last pair? And, quite honestly, if you leave your spectacles behind in a tram or a hired car you may get them back again, but the chances are something like drawing a runner in the Irish Sweepstakes.

In Gloucester Building you will find qualified opticians in the firm of Lazarus. Everyone here knows their courteous and efficient manager, Mr. L. A. Tobias. He will tell you how long your job will take and he will have it ready to the minute. This is not one of our romantic shops, but none is more useful o. better managed.

WAI KEE

Jewellery has an attraction all its own and whether there is a trade depression or not, there is always a demand for jewellery. In Hongkong, the firm of Wai Kee is known as a reputable and dependable store where you are sure to get a square deal.

Wai Kee's carry a large stock—diamonds, jades, silverware and gold articles. Some very fine example of ivory carvings can also be seen here. The stock is too varied for a detailed description but a visit will show an excellent collection of Oriental jewellery.

PIONEER SILK STORE

An attractive silk store in China Building is The Pioneer Silk Store where prices are very moderate. Here are silks that delight all who visit the Colony. Silk Mandarin coats, Cantonese shawls, ladies silk pyjamas, underwear sets, Indian real brocade and bridge coats are available. This big silk store is the shopping centre for local shoppers but the courtesy of the staff places you under no obligation when you visit their store.

KOHINOOR SILK STORE

This silk store is also in China Building and is the last store before you come to Queen's Theatre. They carry many articles of silk and are well worth a visit if only for the variety they can put before you. They have a large range of Oriental silks which every visitor should make it a point to see and they stock a number of novelties. Ready made dresses, handkerchiefs and ties and silk for men's suits are all available here and dresses can be made ready in twelve hours.

IMPORTANT CONFERENCE IN ROME

BRITISH MINISTERS SATISFIED WITH SATURDAY'S DISCUSSIONS

FRANCO-GERMAN DISTRUST MUST BE REMOVED

IF THERE IS TO BE PROGRESS IN EUROPE

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

ROME, March 19.

AFTER an audience of the King, followed by lunch at which Miss Isbbel MacDonald was also present, Mr. MacDonald and Sir J. Simon resumed their conversations with Sig. Mussolini in the afternoon until the time for an audience of the Pope at 6.30.

Mr. MacDonald and Sir J. Simon declared they were well satisfied with yesterday's talks.

It is understood that the main theme of the talks at present is the possibility to attain a four-power consultative understanding, of which Britain and Italy will form the nucleus, to which France and Germany might join.

Treaty revision figures were prominent in the discussions as Sig. Mussolini considers no progress can be made in Europe until this is achieved, the present mutual distrust between France and Germany removed and ex-enemy countries raised from their present state of inferiority.

Sig. Mussolini is emphatic that the revision must be by consent and not by force, which is allayed to Mr. MacDonald's anxiety on this point.

CORDIAL RECEPTION IN ROME

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, March 18.

After flying from Genoa to Ostia, the port of Rome, in a three engined seaplane piloted by Signor Balbo, the Italian Air Minister, the British Premier and Foreign Secretary were greeted by Signor Mussolini.

They received an extremely cordial reception both from members of the Italian Government and cheering crowds.

They were to-night the principal guests at an official dinner held at Valazzo Venezia, and to-morrow the British Ministers are to lunch with the King at Guardinal.

The conversations begun this afternoon will be conducted during the week-end, and it is anticipated the Ministers will leave by air on Monday.

Many Questions to be Discussed.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

ROME, March 18

Diplomatic circles are awaitwith deepest interest the momentous meeting between Signor Mussolini, Mr. Ramsay Macdonald and Sir John Simon to-day, at a time when there exists the most delicate situation in Europe since 1918.

It is understood that the questions to be discussed are firstly, whether it is possible to save the Disarmament Conference on the lines of Mr. Macdonald's latest proposals, and secondly, the situation which will arise if the Nazis violate the neutral zone in Rhineland.

Mr. Macdonald, it is understood, will ask Signor Mussolini to state his attitude towards any German violation of the treaties, which is most important in view of the suggestions of an Italian-German alliance and the long continued coolness between France and Italy, which accentuates the division of Europe into two hostile camps.

The dangerous situation in the Polish Corridor, Yugo Slavia and Austria, will also be discussed.

GENOA, Later.

A landslide in the Appenines has delayed Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's train from Geneva for an hour. The party arrived here at 10.30 a.m.

Safe Arrival at Rome.

ROME, March 18.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, Miss Isbbel MacDonald and Sir John Simon arrived at the airport at 12.30 p.m. to-day.

The seaplane was piloted by the Italian Minister, General Balbo, from Genoa and escorted by a squadron of seaplanes.

The party was warmly welcomeed by Signor Mussolini and the British Ambassador, and later motored to Rome.

The first talks will begin at 6 p.m.

JAPANESE IMMIGRATION

WORLD DIPLOMATIC PRESSURE ANTICIPATED

Tokyo, March 13.—Agitation is increasing to divert Japanese immigration to Brazil to Manchuria.

The Japanese Army in Manchuria has organised an immigration section and has demanded that funds alloted the Overseas Ministry in the next budget to subsidise immigration to Brazil be diverted to it to finance Japanese immigration to Manchukuo.

In view of Japan's withdrawal from the League of Nations, according to officials of the Kwantung Army, immigration of Japanese nationals to South America no longer is desirable as they might be subjected to discrimination if a programme of world diplomatic pressure is applied to Japan, Japanese immigrants to Manchukuo, on the other hand, will be welcomed and protected by the Kwantung troops.—United Press.

BIG JAPANESE CASUALTIES

YEN TO CHECK FENG

Hsinking, March 13.—Leaders of the Japanese Kwantung Army, including General Nobuyoshi Muto, the commander, are considering counter measures against the Chinese attacks on Japanese troops along the Great Wall, which are daily causing huge casualties on the part of Japanese.

There are only two ways open for the Chinese, according to the opinion of Japanese military leaders here. If Gen. Chiang Kai Shek should send more regular troops to the Great Wall and continued positive anti-Japanese campaign, the Japanese may have to cross the Great Wall and invade China Proper to halt fighting along the Manchukuo-Chinese border. On the other hand, if Gen Chiang suspends the challenging attitude, the Japanese are "willing to conclude new Sino-Japanese agreements regarding the border between China and Manchukuo."—United Press.

Peking, March 13.—It is learned reliably that Gen. Chiang and Marshal Yen Hsi Shen have agreed to act in co-operation to solve the situation in North China, keeping Gen. Feng Yu Hsiang at a respectful distance. According to the agreement, it is said, Gen. Fu Tso Yi and Gen. Wang Tsing Kuo, both Marshal Yen's protégés, will be made chairmen of the Charhar and Suiyuan Provincial Governments, respectively.—United Press.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR TO WASHINGTON

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

BERLIN, March 18.

DR. LUTHER, ex-President of the Reichsbank, is being appointed German Ambassador to Washington in succession to Herr Prittwitz who has resigned owing to the fact that he is unable to agree with the policy of the Hitler Government.

PERU HELD TO BE AGGRESSOR

LEAGUE REPORTS ON DISPUTE

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

GENEVA, March 17.

FOLLOWING the Sino-Japanese precedent, the League Council Committee has produced a "Report" on the Colombia-Peru dispute, consisting of an historique, conclusions and recommendations.

The weight of the evidence is strongly against Peru and the recommendations call for immediate military evacuation of the disputed territory and the opening of negotiations between the two parties.

WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

ANGLO-FRENCH TALK

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, March 17.

A TREASURY communique states that M. Georges Bonnet, French Minister of Finance, had a conversation to-day with the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the President of the Board of Trade on questions raised in the agenda for the World Economic Conference.

The interchange of views was of a most cordial character, and it was found that there was a large measure of agreement as to the principles which should be followed in dealing with the various subjects covered by the agenda.

S.S. HINNOY SURVIVORS

RESCUED BY JAPANESE SHIP

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

COLOMBO, March 18.

THE keen eye of the night watchman aboard the steamer, Naples Maru, saved the lives of 13 survivors of the illfated Norwegian steamer Hinnoy, which was wrecked by an explosion 300 miles west of Colombo on Thursday.

A graphic story of the explosion and the ordeal of being two days in an open boat without food or water, was related by the rescued men on arrival here this evening.

The steamer was bound for Hong Kong from Antwerp with a cargo of chemicals when the explosion occurred. Fourteen members of the crew were killed instantly, and 14 others put off in a small boat, having no time to take in either food or water.

One man died from exposure, and the remaining 13 lay in salt water to escape the tropical heat. Five of the survivors were badly injured.

Seven vessels passed the boat, and in spite of the attempts made, the survivors were unnoticed, and hope was abandoned. Then the Japanese steamer, Naples Maru was heard approaching. Owing to the darkness, there was little hope of being seen, but one member of the shipwrecked party struck what few matches remained.

The faint light proved to be their salvation, the watchman on the passing steamer observing the flicker and giving the warning. The vessel reversed her engines and the sufferers were taken on board and rushed to Colombo.

CHINESE MILITARY LEADERS CONFER

CHIANG ASKED TO SUPPLY REINFORCEMENTS

LITTLE ACTIVITY ON NORTHERN FRONT

JAPAN TO WITHDRAW FROM LEAGUE ON MARCH 24

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

PEIPING, March 19.

HAN FU CHU arrived this morning and had a long conference with Ho Ying Ching.

Han is going to Paotingfu to-night to confer with Chiang Kai Shek.

Sung Cheh Yuan, Commander of the Chinese troops in the Hsifengkow sector, paid a flying visit to Chiang Kai Shek from whom it is reported he asked for reinforcements.

It is reliably reported that only a little skirmishing and sniping is going on at Hsifengkow, despite Chinese reports of heavy fighting.

JAPANESE BOMB CHINESE CONCENTRATIONS

PEIPING, March 18.

A lull is apparently taking place at all fronts in Jehol. Hsifengkow, the only front on which fighting has been continuing since the fall of Kupeikow a week ago, is reported to be quiet now.

Chinese reports state that yesterday forty Japanese aeroplanes bombed the Chinese concentrations near Hsifengkow, but inflicted little damage. Many of the bombs failed to hit their objects, while some did not explode.

Kupeikow continues to be very quiet.

It is learned in Tokyo that the notification of Japan's withdrawal from the League is being cabled to Geneva on March 24.

Volunteers Still Struggling Against Japanese.

NANKING, March 18.

In a letter to an official friend here, General Feng Chan Hai, a Chinese Volunteer leader in Jehol, vigorously denies reports of his turning-over to the Manchukuo.

He says that his forces have been continuing the struggle against the Japanese forces in the Chihfeng area, though without any means of telegraphic communication with China.

Foreign Minister Back in Nanking

NANKING, March 18.

Dr. Lo Wen Kan, the Foreign Minister, and Mr. Chiang Tso Ping were greeted at Tsinan by Han Fu Chu while returning from North China to Nanking.

Public Warned Against Accepting Rumours.

NANKING, March 18.

A Chinese spokesman warned the public against accepting "certain pernicious rumours emanating from Japanese sources," citing, firstly, a report that China is prepared for direct negotiations with Japan; secondly, reports that mutinies had broken out among the Chinese troops and thirdly, reports that Chinese troops along the Great Wall will make no attempt to recover lost territory.

Effect of Chang's Departure.

TOKYO, March 18.

Speaking in the Diet to-day, Count Uchida said that the departure of Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang from Peiping would "prove favourable for a solution of the outstanding Sino-Japanese problems."

In the course of his speech the Japanese Premier emphasised that the Japanese and Manchukuo troops would not enter North China "unless the Chinese resort to unwarranted provocations."

Wang Ching Wei Declines to Resume Post.

SHANGHAI, March 18.

An informal meeting has been arranged to take place at Mr. Chu Man Yi's residence this morning when Mr. Wang Ching Wei and other Government leaders will exchange opinions regarding the situation.

Members of the Cabinet will also report to Mr. Wang Ching Wei developments in the political situation.

Mr. T. V. Soong and other leaders are now pressing Mr. Wang Ching Wei to resume office as President of the Executive Yuan, but the latter is still declining and urging Mr. Soong to accept the post.

Mr. Wang Ching Wei is proceeding to Nanking to-morrow (Sunday), but will return to Shanghai after a brief stay in the Capital to recuperate his health.

Mr. T. V. Soong has issued a telegram to the Central Government declining to accept further responsibility as President of the Executive Yuan, saying that he has ceased to function in the said post as from March 17.

BRITISH STOCKS FIRM

WAR LOAN ADVANCES TO 100

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, March 17.

THE outstanding feature of the Stock Exchange market was the strength of leading British Government stocks, which registered a general advance of 1/8 to 11/16, with War Loan 3/1½ at 100.

NEW CONVERSION LOAN

2½ PER CENT. ISSUE TO BE MADE.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, March 17.

NOTICE is given by the Treasury of a new issue of 2½ per cent. Conversion Loan dated 1944/49, to be offered by tender or otherwise, as the Treasury may from time to time direct.

The first tenders will be received on March 24, at the same time as tenders for Treasury bills and up to an amount not exceeding £5,000,000. Each tender must be for an amount of not less than £10,000.

The object of the issue is to clear up the volume of Treasury bills, which, owing to the financing of £80,000,000 of foreign credits in the early part of the year, exceeds the amount ordinarily outstanding.

BRITISH FUNDS HIGHER

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

RUGBY, March 18.

The gilt-edged market was favourably impressed by the Government's latest development of financing in the form of two and a half per cent. conversion loan by tender, and most of the leading British funds were appreciably higher with War Loan three and half per cent. at 100½.

Federal Court with both original and appellate jurisdiction in cases raising constitutional issues, such as the spheres of the federal, provincial and states authorities, is set up and power is given to establish a Supreme Court to act as a court of appeal in British India. No provision is made for Burma whose decision on the separation question is still awaited.

BRITISH PRESS COMMENT

LONDON, March 18.

Condemnation of the Government's proposals for a reformed constitution for India, published on Friday, features the British Press to-day.

The issue of the White Paper is given great prominence in the national morning papers, all of which have devoted their leading articles to the subject.

"India's Black Paper."

The Daily Telegraph stands alone in its support of the Government's policy, while The Times, which publishes an eight-page supplement on the topic, declines to make comment at this early stage.

The Morning Post describes the proposals as "India's Black Paper," adding that it is not a deed of partnership but an instrument of abdication. The Government's offer of the retirement of European and Indian civil servants on a proportionate pension for the completion of service is "a sham assumption that the new constitution becomes law and seems rather a contemptuous gesture to Parliament," the newspaper continues.

The Daily Telegraph welcomes the proposals as making "an impression that is prudent as well as looking forward to the statesmanship on the part of those who admit that Government without consent is no longer practicable as a policy in India."

The Daily Mail thinks that the proposals constitute a "perilous experiment," while the Daily Express interprets them as a surrender.

The Labour Party organ, the Daily Herald, states that the new constitution is not good enough.

The Times issues an eight-page supplement setting, out the details of the main document, and emphasises the need for a detailed study before making any comment.

PROPOSALS FOR INDIA'S FEDERAL CONSTITUTION

Council Of Ministers Will Be Responsible To Elected Legislatures

GOVERNOR GENERAL TO HAVE SPECIAL RESPONSIBILITIES

[REUTER AND BRITISH WIRELESS.]

LONDON, March 18.

BRITAIN'S proposals for the creation of a Federal Constitution in India, consisting of autonomous British Indian Provinces and such Indian States as choose to enter the federations, are contained in an official White Paper on Indian constitutional reform issued to-day.

In the Central Federation and the Provinces, a Council of Ministers will be responsible to to the elected Legislatures, but the Governor-General will have special responsibilities, having full discretion relating to public order, finance, the civil service and the minorities. He may act as he thinks fit, either by Bills which will have the force of law if not passed by Ordinances. Any act approved by the Governor-General may be disallowed by His Majesty in Council.

In the event of a disagreement between the Chambers of the Federal Government, a joint sitting will be summoned. In the event of a breakdown of the Constitution, the Governor-General and Provincial Governors may assume all powers.

WHITE PAPER CONDEMNED IN BRITISH PRESS

The Government's proposals will be examined by a joint Select Committee of both Houses of Parliament in consultation with representatives of Indian opinion.

Final proposals, in the form of a Bill, will be based on the committee's report.

By the Government proposals, the provinces are given autonomy and to the Federal Government is conceded responsible government over the whole field of the administration allotted to the federation, except in regard to certain reserved subjects.

The Federation will consist of the autonomous provinces of British India and the Indian states. It will be brought about by the princes surrendering the defined corpus of their present sovereign rights not so surrendered and unaffected by any other consideration than the existing suzerainty of the Crown.

Conditions.

It is a condition of the setting up of the federation, firstly, that the rulers of States representing not less than half the aggregate population of the Indian States and entitled to not less than half the States' seats in the Upper House of the Legislature shall have executed the necessary instruments of accession; and secondly that a reserve bank, free from political influence, will have been set up and already be successfully operating.

Governor-General and Viceroy.

The Governor-General and Viceroy will have a dual capacity, Governor-General as head of the Federation, and Viceroy as conducting relations with the States outside the federal sphere.

As Governor-General he will be aided and advised by a Council of Ministers responsible to the Legislature in all matters save those to his personal administration, namely defence, external affairs and ecclesiastical affairs.

The Governor-General is also given special responsibility for certain purposes including the following:—

Prevention of grave menace to peace or tranquillity.

Safeguarding of the financial stability and credit of the federation.

Safeguarding of the legitimate interests of the minorities.

Securing to members of the public services of any rights provided for them by the constitution, advising on and the safeguarding of their legitimate interests.

Protection of rights of any Indian state.

Prevention of commercial discrimination in any matter which affects the administration of the reserved departments.

In the event of a breakdown of the machinery of the Government, the Governor-General is empowered to assume full control.

These special and wide powers are, however, to be exercised only in special circumstances, except in the case of the reserved departments.

Two Chambers.

The Federal Legislature resembles the existing central legislature in composition and will consist of two chambers.

The Upper Chamber or Council of State will comprise 260 members, 100 to be appointed by the Princes, 150 to be elected by members of the Provincial Legislatures of British India and 10 nominated members.

The Lower Chamber, or House of Assembly, will consist of 375 members, of whom 125 will be appointed by the Princes and the others elected directly according to the seats allocated to each Province and to the several communities and interests in each province.

In the Provinces.

In the Provinces, certain subjects are reserved to be dealt by the Governor-in-Council and others are transferred subjects by the Governor and Ministers in the Legislative Council or the local parliament.

Reserved subjects, including law and order, are now transferred to the Ministers responsible to the Legislature. But the provincial Governors, like the Governor General, are given special responsibilities with corresponding powers to discharge these responsibilities, confined in scope, of course, to their Province.

Provincial Legislatures.

The Provincial Legislatures are enlarged and the allocation of seats and the method of election will be in accordance with the provisions of the communal award of the 4th August. The present nominated members and the official bloc disappear in favour of wholly elected legislatures so far as the Lower Houses in the provinces are concerned.

In Bengal, United Provinces and Bihar, the Legislatures will be bicameral, with a small proportion of nominated members, not officials, in the Upper Chambers and in the other eight Provinces unicameral.

Lower Chamber.

For the franchise for the Lower Chamber of the Federal Legislature, the proposals lay down qualifications, the effects of which should be to enfranchise between two and three per cent. of the population of British India and similar, but lower, qualifications for the franchise for the provincial legislatures should produce a provincial electorial electorate of about 14 per cent of the total population of British India or some 27 per cent of the adult population.

Right of Women.

Women can vote and will have seats reserved for them in both the Federal Assembly and the Provincial Legislatures. The proposals confirm the existing rights of the public services.

The Secretary of State's Council for India is abolished and its place is taken by not less than four, and not more than six, advisers. A

HOCKEY

Champions Beaten By Recreio

RUNNERS-UP POSITION DECIDED

The Hongkong Ladies Hockey Club undefeated champions for the past three years, were surprising beaten by the Club de Recreio by two goals to nil, in their match at King's Park. The Hong Kong Ladies have already won the Caer Clark Cup, while the Recreio, as a result of this win, will be the runners-up, winning the Southorn Cup for that position.

The losers failed to maintain their excellent standard, and gave probably their worst display this season. On the other hand the Club de Recreio played a far more constructive game and fully earned their victory.

The Recreio attacked throughout in the first half, and just before the interval, A. Alves scored a good goal for them after snapping up a weak clearance by Miss Owen-Hughes.

The Hong Kong Ladies tried hard to equalise, but without success.

Hong Kong:—Miss M. Bird; Miss A. Owen-Hughes and Miss B. Franklin; Miss E. O'Hagan and Miss E. Bell; Miss H. Knill, Mrs. Alun-Jones, Miss P. Harrop (captain), Miss J. Churchill and Miss E. Blackburn.

Recreio:—Miss D'Almada; Miss M. Basto and Miss C. Osmund; Miss L. Xavier, Miss M. Alves and Miss H. Guterres; Miss B. Remedios, Miss O. Oliveira, Miss C. Silva, Miss A. Alves and Miss M. Remedios.

LEAGUE LEADERS AGAIN BEATEN BY THE LINCOLNS

ST. JOSEPH'S LOST TO BORDERERS IN SENIOR SHIELD

The Royal Artillery, the League Leaders again lost to the Lincolns by three goals to two, and as a result have considerably lessened their chances of winning the Championship. South China beat the Hongkong Football Club rather easily by four goals to nil, while Kowloon lost to the Royal Navy by three goals to one.

In the only Senior Shield match, played at Sookunpoo between the Borderers and St. Joseph's, the former won by six goals to three.

The Junior champions, the Chinese Athletic were surprisingly and easily beaten by the runners-up, the Borderers at Sookunpoo, but the biggest upset of the day was in the Third Division when the Chinese Athletics beat the Lincolns by the odd goal in seven.

SENIOR SHIELD

BORDERERS v. ST. JOSEPH'S.

Greatly handicapped by the absence of their interport forward, A. V. Gosano, the St. Joseph's were beaten by the Borderers by six goals to three in their match at Sookunpoo.

The soldiers were surperior throughout, and at one time had a lead of five clear goals. The Saints' defence was weak, and had it not been for the goalkeeper, Marques, they might have lost by a bigger margin. For the greater part of the game, they had only ten men on the field, Sabhan, their left winger, having developed cramp in the earlier stages. Omar, a third division player, took the place of A. V. Gosano and proved a worthy substitute, displaying clever ball control.

The game started with the Borderers attacking, and although the ball was always in their opponents' half, they could not manage to score until after thirty minutes' play, when Duncan gave them the lead with a nice cross shot. Shortly afterwards Davis increased their lead from a nice centre by Duncan.

After the interval, the Borderers continued to press, and Fortey soon scored the third goal with a nice header. The same player added another after a mistake by Fernandes, and a few minutes later Jones scored the fifth. Having lead of five clear goals, the Borderers then began to slacken their pace. As a result, the Saints had a period of attack, and Leonard scored. However, the Borderers again went further ahead through Davis. The Saints took up the attack again, and shortly before the end, added two more goals through Omar and Gosano.

Borderers:—Johnson; Mullane, Morrison; Morgan, Podmore, Underwood; Harris, Davies, Fortey, Jones and Duncan.

St. Joseph's:—Marques; Guest, Gomes; Souza, Costa, Fernandes; Lawrence, Omar, Leonard, B. Gosano and Sahban.

Referee: Mr. Archer.

The cigarette of Quality.

The reason for the wonderful popularity of the "Three Castles" Cigarettes is no mysterious, elusive secret. It may be summed up in one word—quality. With a reputation, in itself an unmistakable evidence of excellence, they have, for many years, received a measure of appreciation accorded to no other brand of Virginia Cigarettes.

WEEK-END FOOTBALL RESULTS

FIRST DIVISION

ARTILLERY v. LINCOLNS.

The Artillery, league leaders, considerably lessened their chances of winning the Championship, by losing to the Lincolns at Caroline Hill. Several of their players, including Pardoe, the Interport captain, did not play up to their usual standard, while on the other hand the whole Lincolns team played full out to a man.

The game was a fast one, and shortly after the commencement, the Gunners took the lead through Bryant. Play was then mostly in midfield, with the Lincoln trying hard to equalise. Just before the interval they were rewarded when Hocquard centred for Malpas to race past Combey.

After the interval the Gunners started strongly, and Heath, the Lincolns' goalkeeper, made three splendid saves in quick succession. In the other end, the Lincolns were awarded a free kick just outside the penalty area, and Hocquard who took the kick sent in a terrific shot to give them the lead. A few minutes later, their lead was increased by Ridley from a nice pass by Baldry. Just before the end of the game, Bryant reduced the deficit for the Gunners in a scramble in front of the goalmouth.

Artillery :—Combey; Allen, Rogers, Collier, Pardoe, Harris; Wood, Bryant, Gough, Moore and Seal.

Lincolns :—Heath; Turner, Ash; Dudley, Cork, Bett; Baldry, Harding, Malpas, Ridley and Hocquard.

Referee: R. P. O. Darlington.

SOUTH CHINA v. CLUB.

South China avenged their defeat earlier in the season, by beating the Hongkong Football Club by four clear goals on the latter's goal. The Chinese were superior in every department of the game, and had matters much their way for the majority of the game. As a matter of fact had it not been for splendid goalkeeping by Rodger, the Club would have been beaten by a much bigger margin.

Shortly after the commencement, Pau Ka Ping opened the scoring with a nice shot. Soon afterwards, Pau Ka Ping again went through but was penalised for off-side. From the free kick, however, Tam Kong Pak took possession and increased the lead.

After the interval, the Chinese continued to attack, and Pau added their third goal when Rodger failed to hold his shot. The Club retaliated, and Williams had rather bad luck when he shot just over the bar.

The ball was again transferred to the Club's side, and Rodger was bombarded with a series of shots, one of which passed him.

South China :—Lim Thin Chan; Lau Mau, Leung In Chan; Leung In Chui, Lee Kwok Wai, Tong Kwan; Cheng Shui Hong, Wong Mee Shun, Pau Ka Ping, Tam Kong Pak and Ip Pak Wa.

Club :—Rodger; Martin, S. Strange; Skinner, Hynes, Boyd; Dominy, Wirth, Williams, Duncan and E. Strange.

SECOND DIVISION

ATHLETIC v. BORDERERS.

The Chinese Athletic, who have already won the Championship, were beaten by the Borderers, the runners-up by five goals to nil in their match at Sookunpoo. Although attacking from the start, the Borderers could not take the lead until near the interval when Hamblyn scored from a pass by Hazelwood. In the second half, the Borderers had matters their own way, and added no less than four goals, Hazelwood, Morris, Pritchard and Hamblyn being the scorers.

CLUB v. NAVY.

The Hongkong Football Club were severely trounced by the Navy to the tune of eight goals to nil in their match at Happy Valley. The Club fielded only nine men, while the Navy put up a strong team. The sailors attacked from the start, and before the interval, Parsons gave them the lead to be immediately followed by one from Taylor.

In the second half, the sailors again attacked and scores three goals in five minutes through Brooke (2) and Parsons. Sayer added the sixth and scored again after Brooke had netted.

LINCOLNS v. EASTERN.

The Lincolns easily defeated Eastern in their match at Happy Valley. They scored four goals in the first half, and should have doubled their score in the second half but they threw away numerous chances.

Within a few minutes of the start, P. McGuinness gave the Lincolns the lead. Shortly afterwards J. McGuinness placed them further ahead, scoring two goals in succession. Just before the interval P. McGinness scored their fourth goal. In the second half play was fairly even, and the Lincolns scored only one goal near the end through P. McGuinness.

ARTILLERY v. TSUN TSIN

In a very poor game played at Happy Valley, the Gunners drew with the Tsung Tsin. The game was marred by several unpleasant incidents, Hopkins, of the Gunners, being sent off the field, and Holmes, their goalkeeper was injured and had to leave.

The Artillery opened the scoring in the second half, and Mok Yung Sang equalised from a penalty.

THIRD DIVISION

ATHLETICS v. LINCOLNS.

This match was played at King's Park and ended in a surprising win for the Chinese by four goals to three. Within a few minutes of the start, the Chinese scored, but shortly afterwards Clarke equalised for the Lincolns. The Lincolns then continued to attack and added two more goals through Clarke. The Chinese, however, retaliated and scored no less than three goals before the final whistle sounded.

YESTERDAY'S MATCHES

UNITED SERVICES FINALS

WINS FOR R.A. AND MEDWAY

The Senior and Junior finals of the United Services competitions were played off at Happy Valley yesterday.

In the Senior competition, the Royal Artillery beat the H.M.S. Cornwall by five goals to two, while H.M.S. Medway defeated the R.A.M.C. by six goals to one in the Junior.

At the conclusion of the games, the prizes were distributed by Col. Dunsterville.

In the senior game, the Cornwall were leading by two goals to one for the bigger part of the game, and it was partly due to their lack of stamina that they lost the match. Although not so stylish as the Gunners they played quite well as a team, adopting the long passing tactics. The Gunners relied too much on individual tactics in the earlier part of the game, but fortunately for them they realised this mistake as the game progressed.

It was mostly through the hard kicking of their backs that the sailors gained the lead, but their forwards were rather weak in shooting, missing several good chances. For the Gunners, Allan defended splendidly, while in the forward line, Moore was outstanding, scoring four beautiful goals in succession.

The Gunners were the first to kick-off, but the sailors were soon on the attack. The Gunners could not settle down in the beginning, and about ten minutes after the commencement, Partington opened the scoring for the sailors with a nice shot which found the corner of the net. Urged on somewhat by this setback, the Gunners took up the attack, but their forwards could not get through the sailors' defence owing to their individual tactics. Pardoe, their centre half, then tried a long shot from forty yards' range, which met with success the goalie misjudging the ball although he touched it. The sailors, however, retaliated and after a scramble in front of the goalmouth, Parsons sent in a well-placed shot which the goalie thought was outside. Half-time arrived with the sailors leading by 2-1.

In the second half, the Gunners changed their individual tactics, and combined well. The sailors, on the other hand, slackened their pace considerably, and the Gunners taking up this advantage, were mostly on the offensive. After about fifteen minutes' play, they equalised through Moore from a corner kick. From then on it seemed that the Gunners were going to win, and it proved correct. Few minutes later, Pardoe again tried one of his [illegible] long shots, and from the rebound Moore gave them the lead. Moore added a third with a well-placed shot. Immediately afterwards, Moore again scored after a brilliant solo effort. Nothing much was seen of the sailors' attack now, and most of their players were called upon to repulse the Gunners' attack. Towards the end of the game, Moore added his fourth goal with a nice header.

The teams were:—H.M.S. Cornwall: Botterill; Baker and Mat-

AUSTRALIA'S DEFENCES

£7,000,000 PROVIDED BY GOVERNMENT

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

LONDON, March 18.

ACCORDING to the Daily Herald correspondent at Canberra, the Australian Commonwealth Government is understood to have decided to provide £7,000,000 to strengthen the national defence.

The programme will include 10 new warships, additional fortifications and re-equipment of the air force, all of which, it is emphasised, are within the limits of the present Disarmament obligations.

SOVIET TAKES FIRM STAND

REFUSE TO RELEASE BRITISHERS

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY]

Moscow, March 17.

THE Soviet Government has refused to take any action in the matter of the British employees of Metropolitan Vickers, Limited, who are under arrest.

M. Litvinoff, the Foreign Commissar, has informed Sir Esmond Ovey, the British Ambassador, that the arrested men will shortly be tried by the Supreme Court on a charge of counter-revolutionary activities, for which the penalty is death.

Soviet Justice.

M. Litvinoff rebutted the idea that British citizens living in Russia should not be subject to Soviet justice and expressed the hope that the case would not disturb Anglo-Soviet relations which were far more important than firms and individuals.

thews: Donovan, Davey and Allan; Rogers, Coxon, Rowlands, Partington and Parsons.

Royal Artillery:—Combey; Allen and Rogers: Collier, Pardoe and Harris: Gough, Bryant, Moore, Walker and Seal.

The Junior Final.

The R.A.M.C. met the H.M.S. Medway in the Junior final and were beaten by six goals to one. The game, however, started fairly evenly, no goals being scored in the second half. In the second half, the soldiers fell off considerably and could not keep the pace set up by the sailors, who were continuously on the offensive. In one of their rushes Sergeant scored for them. This, however, was soon equalised by the soldiers through McHill. From then on, the sailors had matters their own way, no less than five goals were scored, Packer (4) and Bedworth being the scorers.

The teams were:—Medway: Britton; Magill and Reeves; Twinning, Ratcliff and Owens; Bedworth, Walker, Packer, Goose and Sargeant.

R.A.M.C.: Cossan; Couson and Goulty; Hall; Traynor and Bians; King, Tarney, McHill, Nellems and Cunningham.

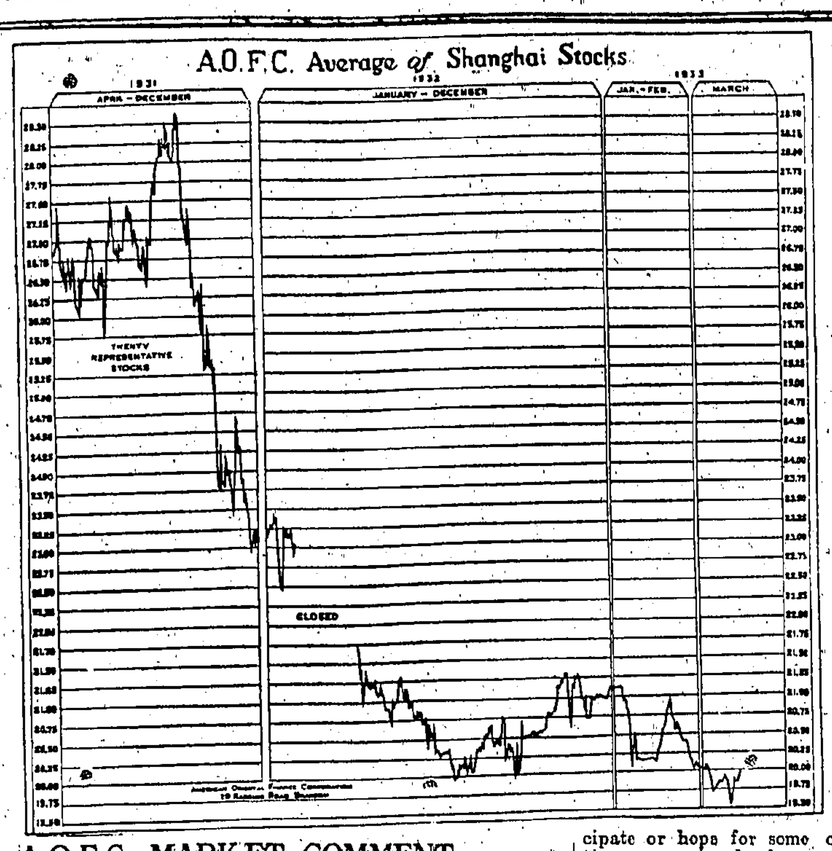
MONEY AND MARKETS



A.O.F.C. MARKET COMMENT

Shanghai, March 14.—The Shanghai Stock Market showed a somewhat better tone at the beginning of the past week. Ewos, especially, attracted much attention and a considerable turnover was recorded in these shares. Action of Shanghai Lands was encouraging on Wednesday and the issues were in good demand at 23½. The Market remained singularly undisturbed despite the general financial unsettlement in the United States, and a display of strength was evidenced in all the leading issues. A good turnover of Shanghai Lands was done at 24 on Friday. Trams had good buyers at 29. In view of the reputed liquidation, a great deal of interest was shown for Luna Park shares. Otherwise the Market was lifeless on Saturday; only debentures received trading attention Total turnover amounted altogether to 7,466 shares and bonds on Monday. Ewos eased off with a small business done at 13.60. Local quotations for Trams remained around 29, although higher rates were registered in London.

The Domestic Bond Market withstood all the intricacies of the northern political situation very well and, contrary to expectations, the total volume of transactions exceeded that of the previous week, and almost every issue registered a gain. The explanation for this phenomenon, i.e.—the abundance of funds at the disposal of local banks following their release of investments in foreign currencies—is a plausible one and was probably the main factor to account for the bullish tendencies of the Market.

In face of much poor news, both the stocks and bonds acted reasonably well. No sign of heavy liquidation has appeared. Prospects still remains moderately favourable for a further rise in prices; not because business is likely to pick up very much, nor because credit conditions are apt to become thoroughly satisfactory, but because the tendency may be to anticipate or hope for some constructive economic developments from abroad which might have their influence on local conditions.

IMPERIAL TOBACCO AND COMPETITION

London, Feb. 28.—If the optimism of Lord Dulverton, in his speech to the shareholders of the Imperial Tobacco Co., was qualified, the reservations had no disturbing effect on the market, which welcomes the effort to meet keen competition. The position has been so well discounted by the recent decline in the shares that holders are not likely to be perturbed. The reduction in the net profits is traceable to causes beyond the control of the management.

Decreased consumption and competition operated as the actual turnover slightly decreased, but the main cause was the heavy addition to the tobacco duty imposed in the Emergency Budget of 1931. A reduction in the revenue from the British American Tobacco Co. was another important influence, while the discriminatory duty imposed by the Irish Free State was an unusual and unforeseen disadvantage.

The determination of the combine to fight competition by yielding to the coupon craze must be regarded as a sign that the company's trade is not to be diverted without a struggle. The hard facts of the situation are being faced, and though little encouragement was held out for any appreciable improvement during the current year the financial strength of the organisation ensures that it will maintain its position.

LIFE ASSURANCE

TAKE OUT A POLICY WHILE YOUNG

It is most important that everyone whose life is insurable should insure his life. For various reasons some people seem to feel that it is not good to insure. A young man says he is not married, why should he insure He does not reflect that apart from his duty to his wife and family later, he owes something to his parents. If he should become ill and die the expense might be very great, and if he were insured the cost might be covered and his parents saved from a heavy financial strain caused by his illness and death.

Another point in favour of insurance while young is, that the premiums are less, and the burden through the years is therefore lessened. Not only so, but in the case of policies taken out for an advanced age the bonuses in a good company, are more.

Some people advise whole life Insurance and in a way that is good, but most modern insurances are of the endowment assurance form, payable at a certain age or at death if that should occur earlier. If one has a share in a provident fund, it may be that he will have a pension, but if he has an insurance policy maturing at the time, he may be able to use the money obtained from that to purchase a house and get settled, and use his pension for supporting him in his old age.

Apart from this provident funds can never give the benefits conferred by life or Endowment Insurance if the man should die young. There are many Life Assurance Companies and other Associations for the purpose of carrying on this type of business.

Details of British Offices.

A book is published every year with details of about 50 British offices. Some of these are Companies with Capital and shareholders, and some are mutual offices which exist solely for the policy holders. Advice is given in this book as to how to choose a good office in which to insure; and it is best to choose one's Company or office or association, and not merely to fall in with the views of an agent who naturally wants to secure business for his own Company.

Insurance proves to many a very great boon, of one thousand people at twenty years of age, eight may be expected to die within the year. The average increases until at 50 years of age it is about 20. In the case of such a death, the family reaps a financial benefit, though, most people hope to live to receive the amount they insure for with bonuses earned during the years, and not to secure the benefit of an early death.

Some people think that this means loss to the Association but it is not so. This is calculated out and the mutual principle involves the help of the unfortunate one, but the loss is infinitesimal as far as other individual policy holders are concerned.

SUGAR PRICES INCREASE

RAW AND REFINED RECORD SHARP ADVANCES.

New York, March 8.—Raw and refined sugar have advanced sharply in price in the face of restrictions on futures trading imposed because of the banking holiday.

Refiners yesterday, according to reports, bought about 300,000 bags of Cuban and duty free raw sugar from other points, including the Philippines, for March and April shipment at $3.05, an advance of 19 points over the last regular quotation.

Centrifugal was quoted at $2.86 at the close of Friday market. Cuban for March shipment then closed at 90 bid.

THREE SILVER AIRPLANES

The King Wishes The Expedition Success

MARQUESS M.P. LEADER

London, Feb. 21.—Three small silver airplanes rose into the air above a waving crowd at Heston Aerodrome at 9.32 a.m. to-day, and the expedition which is to fly over Mount Everest (29,000 feet), the highest point in the world, had started.

The three men who will fly over Everest, if all goes well, are Air-commodore P. F. M. Fellowes, the Marquess of Clydesdale, M.P. (the first pilot), and Flight-lieut. D. F MacIntyre.

A large party had assembled at the aerodrome shortly after 8 a.m. With Air-commodore Fellowes was his wife, who is flying to India with the party.

Air-Commodore Fellowes received a letter from Colonel Sir Clive Wigram, Private Secretary to the King, conveying the King's good wishes for the success of the expedition.

The Duchess of Hamilton saw her son, the Marquess of Clydesdale, off on his great adventure.

Many people prominent in the flying world were also at Heston, including the Master of Sempill and Air Vice-marshal Borton.

Lady Houston.

Lady Houston, who has taken a great interest in the flight from the start, sent a personal representative.

A sister of Commodore Fellowes presented each man with a bunch of white heather.

The Marquess of Clydesdale said to the Evening Standard:

"We expect to take a fortnight to reach India and to be away for two and a half months altogether.

"Our object is to fly over and photograph Mount Everest, to survey the immediate surroundings, and to prove that the highest mountain in the world is not a barrier to air transport. If we are successful we shall have accomplished in the three hours of our flight something which would take years of ordinary effort."

Mrs. Fellowes had been given a bunch of violets and a small bunch of lilies of the valley. She said she was looking forward to the trip to India tremendously. She added:

"I would like to go on the flight over Everest, but I know they will not let me, so is it no good thinking about it."

The Master of Sempill, speaking of the flight, said:

—"The conquest of Everest and a non-stop flight round the world are the two great things that remain for aviation to achieve."

Heated Clothes.

Lord Clydesdale was flying a Tiger Moth, Commodore Fellowes a Puss Moth, and Flight-lieut MacIntyre a Fox Moth.

The airplane which will be used for the flight over Mount Everest has already been sent to India.

For the Everest flight, the pilots and observers will be using oxygen, and they will wear electrically-heated clothes.

Colonel Blacker, the chief observer, left Croydon by air liner to-day for Paris, where he will pick up the air liner from India on Saturday.

ELLERMAN LINES

REDUCTION OF CAPITAL

London, Feb. 28.—Mr. Justice Luxmoore in the Chancery Division yesterday approved the reduction of the capital of Ellerman Lines Limited from £5,450,000 to £2,180,000 by reducing the denomination of four classes of £10 shares to £4 per share.

Mr. Edward Ackroyd (instructed by Hill, Dickinson and Company), who made the application, said the company did not do its own shipping now, but was a holding company.

An affidavit by Sir John Ellerman referred to the depression in the industry, and showed that the capital which was being returned was in excess of the wants of the company.

His lordship confirmed the reduction.

BULLFINCHES PIPE FOLK SONGS

TAUGHT TO WHISTLE "BLUE-AS-THE-FORGET-ME-NOT"

Bullfinches trained to pipe folk songs have become popular pets in London and there is now a keen demand for them.

These birds come from the Continent and many are sold at prices as high as ten guineas.

A West End bird-fancier told the "Evening Standard" that:

"These bull-finches are similar to the British bird in colour and are slightly larger.

"They come to us from the Black Forest, and are attractive with their black velvet cap, bright red breast and slate blue back.

"The demand is greater than the supply, as the training of these birds requires skill and patience and is a secret closely kept by the villagers in the Black Forest area.

"The birds reach this country at the end of each year and they are sent with a guarantee that they can pipe a Black Forest folk song.

"The birds we receive can give one of two tunes—a variation of 'Polly Perkins' and 'Blues as the Forget-me-not.

"As soon as the bullfinch is hatched it is handed over to the trainer, who takes it into his cottage in the Black Forest, rears it and whistles to it all day long.

"The bird is kept in a quiet room and the trainer spends about eight months in sitting close to the bird and whistling over and over again the particular song he wishes it to learn.

"It learns bar after bar, gradually recognises the complete tune, and pipes the notes in their correct sequence.

"Some of the best birds we have received have been able to pipe 'Blue as the Forget-Me-Not' without a single pause, but in spite of the eight months' training the majority of them hesitate occasionally at various parts of the tune.

"All of them, however, can pipe sufficiently well for the tune to be recognised easily.

"An important feature of the training is that the bird must hear the whistling of the tune shortly after it is hatched. Even a bird which is only two months old cannot be trained to pipe."

NEW SOVIET ENVOY TO JAPAN

M. YURENEV WELCOMED AS TOKYO AMBASSADOR.

Tokyo, March 12.—The New Soviet Ambassador to Japan, M. Lurenev, assumed office yesterday having arrived in Tokyo from Tsuruga. Mr. K. Arita, Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Koki Hirota, former Japanese Ambassador to Moscow, and personal deputy of Count Y. Uchida, the Foreign Minister, were at the station to welcome the new Ambassador, whose main task on assuming his post is said to be the re-opening of negotiations for a non-aggression pact between Japan and Soviet Russia. M. Yurenev is to proceed to the Imperial Palace shortly to submit his credentials to the Emperor.

An understanding with Russia after Japan's withdrawal from the League of Nations is strongly urged in some official circles. In order to accomplish this purpose the conclusion of non-aggression treaty is believed to be necessary. Some officials are opposing it, it was learned. It is generally understood that Japan will decline again if such a proposal should be made in the near future.

FOREIGN MAILS

SAIGON-MARSEILLES AIR MAIL SERVICE.

Letters (Ordinary and registered but not insured), Postcards, and "Autres objets" (Commercial papers, Printed papers and Samples) will be accepted for transmission by this Service. Rates and conditions are shown in the schedules exhibited at the G.P.O. and Kowloon Office.

THE AIR MAIL SERVICE from SAIGON to EUROPE is weekly. The HONG KONG-SAIGON connection will be maintained by the regular fortnightly sailing of the FRENCH mail steamers and on alternate weeks by any available steamers that can make the connection at SAIGON.

Letters for this route should be marked "Saigon-Marseilles Air Mail Service" and handed in at the G.P.O. or Kowloon Post Office.

Letters and postcards for Europe and South America are forwarded "via Siberia" if so superscribed.
